WEATHER INDICATIONS.

U. S. Department of Agriculture
Weather Bureau,
Toledo Ohio. April 18, 1892.

There is a storm of great energy central over southwestern Missouri. It extends from Texas to the Ohio valley, and for the past 12 hours has moved very little. Its movement appears to be easterly, and it will probably move to the Atlantic coast by Tuesday night. As this storm advances it will cause high northeast winds over the lower lakes. Chicago reports a velocity of 36 miles from northeast. Rain has fallen between the latitudes of 35 and 40 from Wyoming to the Atlantic coast. There is an area of high pressure over the north and northwest, which has caused decided falls of temperature over that section. The Mississippi river has risen from Keokuk to St. Louis. It has fallen at Cairo, where it is 4.8 feet above the danger line. It has risen from Memphis to New Orleans, being 0.7 feet above at the former place and 1.7 feet above the danger line at the latter. The river will continue to rise south of Memphis.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity: Fair, followed by rain or snow to-night; northeast winds.

On Tuesday clearing, colder.

E. A. HANNER,
Observer.

Ohio—Rain; northeasterly winds; increasing.

For Michigan—Generally fair; warmer Tuesday afternoon; variable winds.

For Wisconsin—Generally fair, followed by showers in southern portion; northeasterly winds.

For Indiana and Illinois—Rain; cooler; south; northeast gales.

Any of the earlier stages of Consumption can be cured. It's a matter of evidence—strong enough and complete enough to warrant the makers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in promising this:

If it's taken in time and given a fair trial, they'll refund the money in any case where their medicine fails to benefit or cure.

But it's a medicine that doesn't fail; it goes to the root of the trouble. Consumption is developed through the blood, and must be cured in the same way. It's a scrofulous affection of the lungs—a blood-taint. And the surest ready for Scrofula in all its forms, the most potent blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder known to medical science, is the "Golden Medical Discovery." It cures Scrofula; it cures Consumption; it cures all Bronchial, Throat, and Lung affections, Asthma, Weak Lungs, Severe, Lingering Coughs, and kindred ailments—through the blood.

And if there's no help, there's no pay.

CUT OFF BY SNOW

Many Towns in England Are Suffering

From the Effects of the Recent Storms.

Rivers Running Out of Their Banks

And Crops Very Seriously Injured.

Cables from France Show that the Republic Has Not Escaped the Dangerous Sleet and Rain Storms.

London, April 18.—The damage by storm and flood is great in southeast England.

In Essex the melting snow has caused the rivers to rise, and do great damage to crops and farms.

The potato crop on the island of Jersey has been almost destroyed by frost. Snow is falling heavily to-day in north Wales and the adjoining section of England.

Many towns are isolated by heavy drifts, and are cut off from communication by the destruction of telegraph lines.

In the county of Essex and Stour, Blackwater, Lea, Roding and other rivers have been swollen by the storms and in many places the country is flooded. In some parts the situation is serious.

The losses incurred by farmers and fruit growers will be very great owing to the vegetables being either washed out of the ground or killed by the frost. Fruit trees that were budding and giving promise of an abundant yield are now blackened and will yield nothing.

Great damage has been done to the crops in the channel islands. On the Island of Jersey, where snow and frost is seldom seen, the weather has been very cold. It is estimated that here alone the loss on the potato crop will amount to £150,000. The cold shows no signs of abatement. In many places the ground is covered with snow a foot deep.

In some parts of the country the storms have been as severe as any that occurred during the winter—regular blizzards in fact.

The meterological observations show that the storm now prevailing is traveling in a northwesterly direction, and dispaaches announce that it is beginning to be felt in the Baltic.

Dispatches from Paris and places in the north of France state that hail and sleet are falling and the weather is bitterly cold. It is feared that much damage will be done to the early crops.

WILL VOTE FOR LAYTON.

Democrats in Auglaize County Getting in Line.

Wapakoneta, O., April 18.—(Special)—The democrats of Duchouquet township, Auglaize county, met at the court house in this city Saturday afternoon and elected the following delegates and alternates to the congressional convention to be held in Sidney, Ohio, on Wednesday, May 11:

Delegates—Hon. M. D. Shaw, Col. C. A. Layton, Charles T. Kolter, Nicholas Shubert, James Wilson, G. E. Kelley, and John G. Shaw.

Alternates—R. B. Anderson, Charles E. Fisher, William Kreitzer, John Mayer, John Gunther, Bert Pearl and G. W. Romshe, jr.

Resolutions were adopted by the convention and the delegates were instructed to cast their vote solidly for the Hon. F. C. Layton, the present member of the house of representatives, who is a candidate for renomination and who will undoubtedly be the unanimous choice of the convention at Sidney.

RUN DOWN BY A REPORTER.

A Boston Newspaper Man Effects the Capture of a Green Goods Man.

New York, April 18.—Chief Inspector C. C. James and Inspector J. E. Jacobs, of the New York postoffice, arrested Oliver Goyett, alias E. Laffogue, a green goods man, in the saloon on the southeast corner of Fulton and Nassau streets. Laffogue was arraigned before Commissioner Shields and held in $2,500 for examination on Monday.

The case was worked up by a reporter from a Boston newspaper, in connection with the postoffice inspectors.

ORGANIZED TO MURDER

Startling Statements Made on a Scaffold

By a Choctaw About to be Executed.

The Deeds of the Highbinders Pale Into Insignificance Beside These Later Bloody Crimes.

Tahlequah, I. T., April 18.—Startling disclosures have been made here concerning John Waner, who was hanged for assisting in the cold-blooded murder of John Daugherty, of Flint District, last July.

When asked if he wished to say anything he arose and walked to the banister of the platform, and, pausing for a moment, as though he was going to answer an opponent in a political speech, he began talking with as much composure as a stump speaker would have done.

He fully admitted his guilt of the crime for which he had been convicted; said that he had written full particulars in a previous confession and did not want to consume any more time, as he was in a hurry to get off.

"I wish, however," he said, to make a few additional remarks which I neglected to include in my other confession. I wish to advise my friends to keep away from bad associates and abstain from the use of whisky, two evils which have brought me to the gallows. The life of crime which I have led was brought on by drinking and bad company. I have been a member of no less than three secret organizations whose motives were crime, and those organizations have brought me where I am. Whenever a man displeased one of the organizations or injured one of its members the others were called together and the offender sentenced to death without judge or jury. A committee was then appointed to do the killing, and they seldom failed to do it if they were given time enough. I have been on these committees more than once. I could, if I had time, tell you of many of your citizens who have fallen victims to our decree. George Howing was one of them and John Ratt another. I will also tell you the names of persons who have been condemned to death, but not yet murdered. One of them is Ellis Starr, a leading man of our nation. Tom Sanders also.

"There are still others whom I don't remember by name. John Daugherty was not a member of these organizations, but the organizations began to lose faith in me and feared I would divulge some of their secrets, and, to rid themselves of me, they condemned John Daugherty and Paul Christie. John Musrat and myself were appointed to do the killing. We did it, and I alone to-day am to pay the penalty. I only regret that I have lived the life I have and that the others, equally guilty with me, are not to die with me."

THE WAR WITH RUSTLERS

General Miles Interviewed in Chicago.

A Dangerous Crowd of Armed Men Who Are All Handy with the Rifle.

Chicago, April 18.—Gen. Miles said of the cattle rustlers' difficulty in Wyoming:

"It's a peculiar feud, and for 1,000 men to be armed and assembled on one side on such an issue is something extraordinary.

"It is remarkable that those differences should have spread to such an extent among that class of men, who are accustomed to outdoor life, to taking care of themselves, and all of whom are such fine shots. There is little fear for the safety of the soldiers who are guarding the captured cattlemen. The troops are fighting men. For this they enlist and are trained.

"Those rustlers are sensible men. They know that if they slaughter a company of United States troops the government will not rest until the wrong is avenged and the deaths wiped out in blood if it takes the whole power of the government to do it.

"There is as wholesome a respect for regular troops in all difficulties in the west as there is throughout the middle and eastern states in times of riot. Unless the governor declares that he is unable to handle the trouble the government troops will not be hurried in there in any great numbers.

"I have sent no one, but one of my own staff has gone to the Indian territory. I do not apprehend any great trouble there in the rush for land which takes place on Tuesday. Some of that land is good; a great deal worthless. Much of that land which gave rise to the name 'Beautiful Indian Territory,' while furnishing splendid pasturage, is of no account for cultivation. Oh, yes, the Indians are all quiet now."

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.

St. Marys, O., April 18.—(Special)—Harry alias "Yankee" Scott was arrested at Port Jefferson, Shelby county, charged with burglarizing Deweese & Ogden's store a few weeks ago. He was placed under bond of $600 and remanded to jail.

It is thought other arrests will follow. Scott was formerly well connected.

DIED AT 111.

Olean, N. Y., April 18.—The oldest man in this part of the state, John Loftus, died yesterday at the age of 111 years. He was a veteran of the Crimean war, and a survivor of Waterloo. He had several medals for foreign war service.

TWELVE MILLIONS

Of Debts Heaped on the Cities of the State

By the Legislature at This Session.

An Awful Record to Submit to the People.

Closing Hours at the Ohio Capital.

The General Assembly Members Can Now Go to Their Homes and Conjure Over the Wrongs They Have Inflicted.

Columbus, April 18.—(Special)—A resolution was adopted some time ago to adjourn at 12 o'clock to-day, but the hands of the clock in both branches were turned back many times in order to allow local measures to go through.

Senator Nichols said this morning that this legislature, at one session, had passed more bills creating local indebtedness than any other assembly at two sessions.

In round numbers, nearly $12,000,000, with half that amount still under consideration in either branch of the legislature, has been created in debts.

During the morning session of both branches the republicans tried to sneak through several small rippers, but not being able to suspend the rules they fell by the wayside, to be resurrected next winter.

No legislature has closed with so much discredit to it in years.

This morning contractors openly, on the floor of the senate, defeated a bill to reduce the taxes in Columbus.

The house bill by Mr. Kelley creating two special road districts in each of Danbury, Catawba Island, Portage, Bay and Erie townships, Ottawa county, passed the senate; also Mr. Holcomb's bill providing that the secretary of state shall receive $1,000 for acting as state supervisor of elections.

The senate has passed Mr. O'Farrell's bill directing the governor to appoint a commission to settle the accounts at the Boys' Industrial home.

Mr. Pudney's bill making it a misdemeanor for any person or corporation to erect an unsafe scaffold or ladder for the use of employes is now a law, having passed the senate this morning.

The senate has passed a bill by Mr. Taylor, of Guernsey, providing that all county officials shall be paid monthly.

Mr. Hughey's bill compelling railroad companies to heat passenger coaches by steam was reported back without recommendation from the committee on railroads and its consideration was postponed until January 3, next year, by the senate.

Columbus Ripper Defeated.

At 11:30 o'clock the Columbus ripper was brought up by Senator McConica, when Senator Gear made a motion to indefinitely postpone the same, and his motion would have prevailed if Mr. Spencer, of Cuyahoga, had not changed his vote.

Senator Shaw tried to have it postponed until next winter, but failed. Its supporters were then happy, as it was supposed the bill would go through.

Senator Allen took the floor and roasted Mr. Kurtz and the Foraker following in great style and said, as a republican, he would not vote against the bill.

Mr. Lampson demanded the previous question and the bill was placed on its passage and lost.

Senators Iden, Ohl, Phillips (republicans) voted in the negative.

It only received 15 votes.

Pandemonium broke loose and such profanity was never heard in a bar-room as was used by the people who sought places under this bill.

In fact, President Harris ordered the lobby cleared so the senate could attend to business.

A motion to reconsider prevailed and the bill was postponed until the first day of the next session.

The democrats kept watch of all the attempts to smuggle the measures through and the senate adjourned in accordance with the previous resolution.

In the house it was different. All seemed to be harmonious.

BERING SEA MESSAGE.

A Document Sent to the Senate by the President.

Washington, April 18.—The message sent to the senate by the president this afternoon referred to the Bering sea modus vivendi.

It contained the text of the agreement made by the two governments for this season.

THE EVIDENCE PILED UP

More Testimony in the Van Loon Case.

The Prisoner Loses His Temper in Jail.

On Being Refused an Interview with His Wife He Broke Up the Furniture in His Cell.

Ottawa, April 18.—(Special)—The delay caused in the Van Loon case Saturday forenoon by the hitch between the prisoner's father and Attorney E. L. Delaney, of Columbus, in regard to fee, was satisfactorily settled and the trial was resumed at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Again the court room was crowed, more than any time during the week. Every available corner was taken up. The space behind Judge Handy's bench was filled with chairs, occupied by a number of ladies.

The points in the testimony are as follows:

Mr. Wilkinson, of Columbus Grove, was called, but would not swear positively that Van Loon was the man who did the shooting.

Mr. E. A. Carr, testified that he was positive that the prisoner was the man who ordered his hands up on the street.

Henry Gessell testified that Van Loon is the man he found lying in the hay in his barn in Columbus Grove the night before the shooting.

Josiah Delong substantiated Mr. Gessell's testimony.

Mrs. Wm. Van Demark, the widow of the murdered man, testified as to her husband's death, frequently bursting into tears as she recited the story of his suffering.

Wm. Van Demark, nephew of the murdered man, testified that he was within 75 feet when the man fired the shot that killed his uncle. When asked if he knew the man who killed his uncle, he said (pointing to Van Loon), "That man sitting there killed my uncle, Wm. Van Demark.

Arthur Marshall, 17-year old boy, was positive that Van Loon was the man who stopped at his father's house, six and a half miles south of Columbus Grove, in the afternoon and drank two cups of water, then disappeared in a corn field just as the posse came up.

Mr. Vinson identified Van Loon as the man who stopped at his house, eight miles southeast of Columbus Grove, in the afternoon, for a drink of water.

D. M. Reade swore that Van Loon was the man he saw near Mr. Vinson's farm, making his escape.

Walter J. Waterman, a cousin of Van Loon's, testified that Frank came to their house, near Bihalia, Union county, on Sunday, about 11 o'clock, and remained until Tuesday morning.

Saturday evening when Van Loon was taken to his cell he requested that his wife and baby might remain with him, but the request was not granted.

Upon being refused he became violently angry, seized a chair with his hands, kicked it to the ceiling and smashed it to splinters.

He Continues Ugly.

A delay of 15 minutes was caused in the Van Loon trial this morning by the prisoner absolutely refusing to come to the court room, but he was finally persuaded to appear, being very nervous at the time.

D. W. Huddle, of Delaware county, and father-in-law of Van Loon, took the stand and testified that Van Loon came to his house on July 29, '91; went away, and did not return until August 12, when he came into the kitchen, put his hand in his vest pocket, pulled out a black package, opened it, showing some bills, and said:

"Pa, some people think I can't make money; look here;" and told me if any one made inquiry about the Sheet property tell them you gave it to Blanche.

I asked him: "Where did you get that money?"

He answered, "I started with 10 cents and it grew."

"When Van Loon married my daughter, Blanche, in September, 1890, he had no property except a team of horses and wagon and on the 30th of August, 1891, he bought the Sheets' property."

On cross-examination Mr. Huddle said he never liked Van Loon and did not like him now.

RELIGION AND POLITICS

Republicans Clip the Wings of Col. Shepard.

Senator Sherman Writes from the Capital.

New York Executive Committee Denounced the Mail and Express for the Course it Has Pursued.

New York, April 18.—The attacks on the Catholic church which have been appearing in Col. Shepard's Mail and Express have caused the republican leaders considerable annoyance.

The matter was brought formally before the republican county executive committee at its last meeting by the reading of the following letter from Senator Sherman:

"Dr. Michael Walsh. Dear Sir—Yours of the 11th inst. received. I have read the extracts you refer to, from Col. Shepard's paper, and have no hesitation in saying that he does not represent the views of republicans, but only his own.

"I think no republican desires to interfere with a man's religious convictions, nor should this question enter in any respect into the domain of party politics.

"JOHN SHERMAN."

The committee passed a resolution similar in tone to Senator Sherman's letter, condemning Col. Shepard, and repudiating the utterances of his paper on this subject.

TRIED TO BURN A TOWN

Incendiaries at Work in San Antonio, Texas,

A Citizens' Committee is Standing Guard.

Anonymous Notes to the City Police Warn Them That the Trouble Has Only Just Begun.

San Antonio, Tex., April 18.—Incendiary fires have been of nightly occurrence here for several weeks.

Last night fire broke out simultaneously in the business portion, with numerous attempts at incendiarism in other quarters.

The property destroyed was: Oliver Stemberg & Co.'s lumber yard in the western part of the town; loss $20,000; a row of stores on Alamo plaza, loss $30,000, the drug house of A. Dreiss, and the Howard building, loss $50,000.

Many citizens stood guard all night over the city.

City Marshal Shardein has received an anonymous note saying that the fires have just begun

A meeting of citizens has been called to devise means to protect the city and incidentally to punish the incendiaries if they can be caught.

THE EARTH TREMBLED.

Portland, Ore., Shaken Up by the Earth's Interior.

Portland, Ore., April 18.—At 2:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon two heavy shocks of earthquake were felt in Portland and points near by.

Vibrations were from west to east, and lasted about ten seconds in each case.

Many persons became frightened when buildings began to tremble and rushed into the streets. No damage was done.

A PRIEST PROSECUTED.

He Violates the Postal Laws by a Lottery Scheme in His Church.

Valparaiso, Ind., April 18.—Rev. Father Shunk, the priest of the Catholic church at Wanatah, this state, was held to the federal court in bonds of $700 for an alleged violation of the postal laws.

His offense consisted in mailing a lottery ticket to one of his flock. The priest had adopted an unique method of raising money to build a new church, and was in ignorance of an infraction of the law.

BIDDING FOR THE TRADE

Steamboats Preparing for the World's Fair.

Somebody Will Make a Fortune or Go Broke.

Chicago Harbor to be Chartered for the Benefit of Strangers—General Marine News from all Over the Lakes.

Chicago, April 18.—(Special Marine Service)—In view of the world's fair and the strange craft and the strange navigators it will bring here, the most important work is to be begun this week by Capt. Marshall, the United States engineer in charge of government works hereabouts.

It is a thorough survey of this shore from about Thirty-first street to and including the Calumet river, thus taking in Jackson park.

This portion of the shore abounds with dangerous hidden reefs, and old Lake Michigan navigators, and even Chicago tugmen, frequently get their craft aground on the rocks.

Snell's Reef, off Thirty-first street, is about the point at which the survey will commence.

Fine charts are to be made and given out.

The Buffalo Fleet.

The steamers Commodore and Syracuse of the Western line, arrived in Chicago to-day from Buffalo with package freight. The Rochester of the Union line, and Juniata, of the Anchor line are due. A large force of policemen are on the wharves to prevent attacks of striking longshoremen on non-union men.

Freaks of a Boat.

Steel arches were put in the schooner American Union during the winter, and she was generally overhauled. Strange as it may appear, she now carries 5,000 bushels more grain than formerly and on a less draft of water. Steel arches are also being put in the propeller Arctic at Miller Bros. shipyard.

The World's Fair Trade.

The contract for lake transportation to Jackson Park this season and next will doubtless be let by the World's fair directors this week. No similar event has ever excited greater interest on the lakes. Over six months ago the World's fair directors took up the lake route to Jackson Park as a very available way of getting people to the fair grounds.

They advertised for propositions, and every vessel owner on the lakes received numberless circulars. All this came to nothing, and finally Capt. J. S. Dunham, the well-known vesselman, made a proposition that the exclusive right to carry passengers between the lake front and Jackson Park be granted to one company. He then organized the Columbian Navigation Company, and submitted his proposition.

The plan was adopted, but instead of accepting the proposition the directors advertised for bids. When the bids were opened, a month afterward, it has been found that a real estate speculator, who knew nothing about boats and was without substantial backing, had offered to give the World's fair two-thirds of the gross receipts of the traffic. This was too good a thing, and the World's fair people threw out all the bids and advertised anew.

It is understood that there are now before the World's fair committee three bids. Among them is one from the whaleback company, which wants to put on two big whaleback passenger steamers, some 600 feet long and costing $700,000 each. The other bids are by the Columbian Navigation company and a syndicate composed of wealthy Chicago lumbermen.

Not less than twenty steamers of the ordinary lake size will be constantly required in this traffic during fair year, and a half dozen will go into service this season as soon as warm weather sets in. It is by far the largest contract ever made on the great lakes.

Ever since congress gave the fair to Chicago many small vessel-owners have been preparing for a big business during '93. Boats have come here from Bay City and other points, solely to prepare for the fair. Now that the entire traffic is to go into the hands of one company, and they are to be kept out, the feeling is one of great disappointment. They have fought steadily against the exclusive privilege of landing at the Park piers, but the World's fair people have paid no heed. It was thought from the first that a helter-skelter between a half-hundred boats for passengers could only result in some terrible disaster, and there was no escape from the monopoly feature, by which all the boats would be placed under one control.

Whoever gets the contract will either make a fortune or lose considerable money. There will be no coming out even in a contract calling for the transportation of 15,000 people per hour each way morning and night.

The outcome is being watched with as much interest by vesselmen at Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo and other lake cities as here. The steamers to do the business must be gathered at all these points, under charter, and it is a question whether enough can be spared from the regular lines of trade even then to do the business.

Released.

The steamer Chicago, of Western Transit line, was released from the Lime Kilns at 10 o'clock this morning after lightering about 700 tons.

Buffalo Rates.

Buffalo, April 18.—(Special Marine Service)—Shippers are still holding back coal to-day. Charters—Phillip Minch, for Chicago, 40; William Home, for Toledo, going rates.

A Strike Broken.

Chicago, April 18.—(Special Marine Service)—The longshoremen's strike is about over, all boats are being unloaded to-day without trouble by non-union men, under strong police guard.

At the Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, April 18.—(Special Marine Service)—The Livingston Sauber and L. M. Peck are in Mud Lake this morning, encountering some ice, but are expected to arrive here this afternoon.

There are no down boats in sight of Whitefish point, but the ice is reported gone above there.

Rates Go Down.

Chicago, April 18,—(Special Marine Service)—A one-cent rate on grain to Buffalo inside of a week seemed in sight this morning. There were a large number of boats wanting cargoes, and rates were demoralized. A break was made to 1 3-4 wheat and 1 1-2 corn to Buffalo, but even at that figure all boats did not get cargoes.

The cause of the demoralization was the return of so many big carriers for a second load of grain before the winter fleet were all out of the way.

Lime Kilns Crossing, April 18.—(Special)—Down, a. m.—Westford two barges, 3; Caledonia, Buffalo, Tuscarora, 6; Sweepstakes, barge Agnes, 6.30; Escanaba, 7:10; Frank Vance, 7:20; Scranton, 7:50; Griffin, 9:15; Frank Kirby, 9:45; Sparks, 10.20.

The Grain Fleet.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 18.—(Special Marine Service)—Grain-laden vessels are already beginning to accumulate at the railroad elevators. The Erie and New York Central house each have six, and others close by will go to them. Most of the grain is contracted to go by rail to the seaboard.

BRINGING IN ITS FRUIT

Trouble Resulting from the Reading Combine.

Many Men Discharged and a Meeting of the Engineers Called to Consider the Cause.

New York, April 18.—Dissatisfaction among the employes of the Reading system is still growing, and the Hudson river division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has called a meeting for next Wednesday to discuss the matter.

The trouble is mostly confined to the Lehigh Valley division, and the chief cause of complaint is the laying off of men without apparent reason.

A prominent member of the brotherhood said yesterday: "Since the coal combination was formed the mine owners have been compelled to take off a large number of trains and discharge many men. In the machine shops at Easton, Pa., they are only working three days a week. In all of these cases the men blame the company, which, in my opinion, is not just."

BIG BLAZE IN WHITEHOUSE

The Union School Building Burned to the Ground.

No Fire Engine at Hand and the People Had to See the Splendid Structure Destroyed.

Whitehouse, O., April 18.—(Special)—Between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning flames were discovered in the Union school house in this place, and before they could be checked the building was completely destroyed. Nothing was left standing but the walls and belfry.

The building cost $12,000, and was insured for $7,000.

The fire started in the front of the building where there is never any fire kept; in fact there had been no fire in the building since Friday night.

Ryan's stone quarry sounded the alarm on the whistle and men, women and children turned out, but their aid with water buckets was of no avail.

Had the corporation owned a hand engine and hose reel the fire could have been extinguished.

The calamity, following as it did the death of Mr. Hoiles, Mrs. Lucinda Haskins and the daughter of Ali Doran, has filled the cup of sorrow to the brim.

BRUTES ON A TRAIN.

Lady Passengers Grossly Insulted.

A Drunken Lawyer and Cotton Broker Create a Sensation on the Illinois Central.

St. Louis, Mo., April 18.—Passengers who reached this city last night over the Illinois Central through train from New Orleans, tell of a dastardly outrage perpetrated on the St. Louis Pullman sleeper Saturday night. Two ladies enroute from New Orleans to their homes in Ohio were it is alleged, repeatedly insulted in the most brutal manner by a cotton broker and a lawyer, both of Grenada, Miss.

The men were drinking heavily and the defenseless ladies appealed to the Pullman conductor and the porter for protection. When the trainmen attempted to interfere the broker is alleged to have driven them from the coach at the point of a pistol. The ladies were subjected to insults all through the night. The affair is under investigation by the railway officials and the miscreants will be severely dealt with.

STICK TO THE PLOW

Congressman W. C. Oates, of Oklahoma,

Talks to the Farmers of the South.

How He Won Against Large Odds,

And Will Be Returned to Washington.

The St. Louis Convention Scored and Put Down as Having Been Made of a Bad Crowd of Rascals With Evil Intent.

Washington, April 18.—Since he returnde from Alabama, where he met the enemy and made them his, Representative William C. Oates has not ceased to receive the congratulations of his colleagues in congress.

The voters in his district, who were seriously affected with third party inclinations, had twice marked him for slaughter and had sworn by the Ocala platform that he must retire to the shades of private life.

When he went down to Alabama a few weeks ago all sorts of plots were brooding against him, and there was an unpleasant uncertainty about his return to congress. Now victory is stamped on his face with a broad smile which the average man cannot fail to understand.

There were three candidates running a combination game against him—Barnes of Lee county, Tate of Russell county, and Lee of Barbour county. Thirty out of the 56 delegates which will compose the convention have already been instructed for Col. Oates, and his nomination is therefore safe. He has carried Lee county, the home of Barnes; he has carried Barbour county, the home of Lee, and in a few days he will carry Russell county, the home of Tate.

This morning Col. Oates was asked how he managed to achieve such glorious results under such apparently adverse circumstances. He said:

"I fight from the very jump, neither giving nor accepting any compromise whatever. I sustain what is right, attack what is wrong, and make no apologies for it.

"About the first thing I do is to show the good, honest farmers who compose my audience the thorough worthlessness of the miserable gang of parasites who are trying to use them for their own glory and profit. I show them the record of Macune, Terrell, Polk, Willetts and the balance of them. I show them how most of these men have failed at whatever they have undertaken and have been repudiated by the people among whom they have lived.

"In several instances I have found it pertinent to quote Livingston of Georgia to them. Livingston told me after the St. Louis convention that this convention was composed of the worst crowd of rascals he ever saw; that a cut-and-dried program was carried out without giving a hearing to those who objected to it; and that he expected to advise the Southern Alliance to withdraw from the National Alliance, let politics alone and keep up the organization for the agricultural purposes for which it was established.

"The dangerous feature of that platform," Col. Oates continued, "is that there is a lot of good democratic principles sandwiched between its unsound planks.

"I mince no words about it, but, in the plainest language that I can command, show that the measures which they are advocating are unsound, illogical, undemocratic, and that they involve much worse favoritism than that which they seek to redress.

"The principle of equal rights to all and special privileges to none which they candlazon on their banners is violated in their land-loan plank because it discriminates in favor of the man who has land against the man who has none, and in favor of the owner of farm lands against the owner of town property. It is grossly violated in the subtreasury plan, which allows special advantages to the agricultural classes that are not allowed to any other classes. The principle is worse than the proposed ownership of railroads by the government, which is almost impossible of accomplishment, and would ruin the country if it were accomplished.

"The idea of the government's loaning money to the people at 2 per cent. interest on its own bonds for loans, is altogether absurd. The government pays out $40,000,000 a year in interest.

"It would be hopelessly bankrupted in a short while if it should loan an equal amount of money for $20,000,000 interest.

"The St. Louis platform advocates complain of a lack of circulating medium in this country, and point to France as an example of the benefits of a greater circulating medium.

"The truth is that nearly all the business of France is done with a circulating medium, while the business of this country is largely done through drafts and checks of various sorts. We have 10,000 private banks and 4,000 national banks, while France has not a score of banks altogether.

"Besides, while we have a per capita indebtedness of $15, France has a per capita indebtedness of $107. We are getting out of debt; France is going in debt; our country is prospering with a circulation of about $25 per capita; France is rapidly becoming ruined with a circulation of $50 per capita.

"If the St. Louis platform demand for $50 per capita were granted there would be no quick method by which the agricultural people could get the benefit of it. The only way to get money is to exchange something for it, and the third party exchange people need to get out of their heads as soon as possible the idea that any increase of the currency can be accompanied with a general distribution.

"The increase for which they ask would decrease money's purchasing power and make what the farmers could get of less use to them. It would perhaps help to some extent those who are in debt, but it would damage the creditor class for their benefit.

"The idea of fiat money based on the faith of the government with nothing to back it has proved a failure wherever it has been tried in the history of the world. No nation has ever been or ever will be so powerful that it can float a currency with nothing back of it to redeem it. A gold and silver basis has always been required, and will always be required."

ON THE DUSTY DIAMOND

Toledo Loses Two Games to Columbus.

The Boys Played Hard, but Could Not Win.

Games in the Western and National Leagues—Cincinnati Downs St. Louis—General Notes.

The Western league season opened with a rush Saturday. There was a good attendance in all the cities, and the results of the games would seem to indicate that the teams are quite evenly matched.

Indianapolis was defeated in Milwaukee 5 to 4. Kansas City won from Minneapolis 5 to 2. At Omaha the big St. Paul team suffered defeat to the tune of 12 to 2, while at Columbus, Toledo was mopped around the diamond by a score of 8 to 5.

Toledo batted well, ran bases nicely, fielded splendidly, played good general ball, but, if, alas—Breckenridge straightened out one of Pears' curves for a home run with two men on bases and the game was lost. Such is base ball.

Yesterday Minneapolis defeated Kansas City 13 to 4; St. Paul defeated Omaha 6 to 5. The best game of the day was between Toledo and Columbus, in which Toledo secured but two hits off Clausen, and was shut out 2 to 0. Dewald held the visitors down to 6 hits, but they might as well had 20 so far as Toledo winning the game was concerned. Dewald seems to have struck Fred Smith's hard luck of the last two years, that of having nobody hit the ball safe after he had held the other side down to a minimum number of hits. The score of the game Sunday follows:

The Rogers' base ball club will give a masquerade ball at the Seventh ward wigwam Wednesday evening.

Chicago and Louisville played a 10 to 14 razzle-dazzle game Saturday; New York defeated Washington 6 to 5; Cincinnati won from Cleveland 6 to 3; Pittsburg took a game from St. Louis 12 to 5; Philadelphia pounded Brooklyn 15 to 7, and Boston had a walk-away with Baltimore 11 to 6.

A THIEF AT SIXTY YEARS

Morphine, She Claims, Made Her Steal.

When Under the Influence of the Drug She Thought All Property Belonged to Her.

New York, April 18.—Mrs. Zar B. Barnum, wife of the cousin of P. T. Barnum, arrested for shoplifting in Ridley's, pleaded guilty in special sessions. She had given her name as Emily Lawrence. She is tall, slender and 60 years old.

Her lawyer said she was addicted to the morphine habit and that she did not know what she was doing. She was sentenced to 10 days in the city prison. Her husband is a native of Bethel, Conn., and was 50 years old when she married him, 15 years ago. Soon afterwards he met with business reverses and his health broke down. She then obtained work in a hat factory and in due course of time was made forewoman. Since then she has taken care of her invalid husband.

Three years ago Mrs. Barnum's health began to fail, and she found that morphine was her only cure. She eventually became a slave to the habit. She told her pastor of her trouble and he advised her to consult a physician. It was that that brought her to the city. She arrived Tuesday last and proceeded to the home of her nephew, Charles Kiersted, of No. 181 North Seventh street, Williamsburg. Before she left her nephew's house to come to the city Wednesday she took a large dose of morphine.

She says she consulted a physician on Broadway, who offered to cure her for $100. Under the influence of the drug, she says, she frequently had an almost irresistible desire to steal. She had, however, battled against the temptation and won. The drug gave her the delusion that the property of others belonged to her. She had some purchases to make, and when she reached Ridley's the old feeling came over her.

Many people who pride themselves on their blue blood would be far happier with pure blood; but, while we cannot choose our ancestors, fortunately, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, we can transmit pure blood to our posterity.

RED HAND OF ANARCHY

Is Rapidly Spreading in the Country.

Women Who Work in the Role of Spies.

Minneapolis Alleged to be Honeycombed by Agents of the Followers of Herr Most.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 18.—Astounding disclosures indicate that Minneapolis is in the hands of a band of socialist spies.

It has developed that for some time past there has existed here a secret society of communists or socialists whose parent organization thrives in Chicago.

This parent society is a powerful organization and has branches in every large city in the union.

The local society is flourishing, and though its meetings are held in the strictest secrecy, neophytes are added at nearly every session.

The place of meeting, until recently, was in a block on lower Washington avenue. The quarters are now on Second avenue south. It is impossible for outsiders to obtain admission to one of the meetings, for the door is well guarded, and peculiar passwords are needed.

The whole strange story came out in the filing of a suit in the district court on behalf of a servant girl named Catharine Johnson, who asks the court to grant her $500 damages against the wife of a wealthy and prominent merchant of this city for defamation of character.

Miss Johnson states in her complaint that she was employed as a domestic in the family of the lady referred to and this lady defamed her character by stating in the presence of witnesses that she (Catharine) had stolen a lot of clothes and napkins.

Inasmuch as she is innocent of the charges Catharine wants damages to the extent of $500. The lady against whom the suit is brought denies the charges in every particular, and in her answer says that during the entire time Catharine Johnson was at work for her she was in the employ of a political organization of a communistic character, the particular name of which is unknown to defendant, and during such time was receiving from such organization the sum of $10 per week as compensation for the services of plaintiff as a spy in observing and recording the habits and manner of life of the so-called aristocrats; and defendant says that by reason of such employment plaintiff did not render to defendant and could not fully and faithfully perform the services of a domestic; and by reason thereof defendant has been damaged in the sum of $500.

Before coming to Minneapolis Miss Johnson had for a time been employed in the family of James J. Hill, the railway magnate in St. Paul. Since these strange disclosures reporters of local newspapers have made inquiries which indicate that more than half the wealthy families of St. Paul have these anarchist agents in their houses. Exactly what the society hopes to gain by all this is not apparent, unless it is to bring about a state of affairs romanced about in recent novels.

NEWS FROM DEATH VALLEY

The Comstock Strike Excitement Duplicated.

Millions of Dollars Yet in the Western Mountains for Man to Dig Out.

Ploche, Nev., April 18.—Probably not since the big strike on the Comstock lode has such excitement and activity been witnessed in this state as is now prevalent in this section over the exceedingly rich gold and silver discoveries reported from Ferguson, Lincoln county.

Ferguson is situated on the northern edge of the famous Death Valley, about 40 miles south of Ploche, and about 160 miles southwest of Milford, the nearest railroad station.

The first mine located was the Monkey Wrench, so named from the finding of an old monkey wrench on the ground and is owned by Ferguson Bros., Mansing & Cohn, the latter being a mining man of this state, who represents California capital.

This claim has been sunk to a depth of 60 feet. The ledge is 5 feet wide, with an 8-inch streak of high-grade silver ore, which continues the full depth of the shaft. The 8-inch streak contains horn silver and runs up into the thousands of ounces to the ton, while the average of the 5-foot ledge is 64 ounces of silver to the ton.

The Magnolia, the richest mine of the district and the one which has caused the greatest excitement, is owned by Ferguson, Manning & Cohn. They have attained a depth of 43 feet and a four-foot ledge continues the full depth, which averages $600 in gold and 1,184 ounces of silver per ton. Picked samples from this mine have gone $3,000 in gold and 1,500 ounces of silver. At present there is a standing offer of $100,000 for this property, but it has been refused by the owners.

In addition to those already mentioned, there are about 80 other locations in the district, many of which run high in silver and from which free gold can be panned.

SHE WRONGED HER SISTER

A Peculiar Case in New York Courts.

One of the Many Strange Cases That Come to Light in the Big Cities of the World.

New York, April 18.—Miss Henrietta Fisk, principal of Grammar School No. 71, of Brooklyn, has been made the defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages for alienating the affections of Wm. H. H. Glover from his wife. Miss Fisk and Mrs. Glover are sisters.

Glover is a well-to-do contractor. Mrs. Glover is nearly 60 years old, while her sister is a woman of 45 or 50 years. They are both gray, but handsome and attractive.

Miss Fisk has been a teacher and principal in the public schools of Brooklyn for the past 25 years and has earned a high reputation for ability as a teacher.

Her sister, on the other hand, has devoted 37 years of her life to the duties of wifehood and motherhood. Since her marriage with Wm. H. H. Glover nine children have come to bless their union.

Of this number several have grown to manhood and womanhood. Some are married and are guardians of families of their own. Some live in and around New York; others have made homes for themselves in the far west.

Three children have remained in the maternal nest, and Mrs. Glover claims that she is now responsible for their support. Mrs. Glover alleges that improper relations have existed between her sister and Mr. Glover since January 1, 1885, and that Miss Fisk, who came to live with the Glover family at that time has usurped the place in her husband's affections that belonged to herself.

She says she shrank from publishing her grief and mortification to the world when she first learned of her husband's unfaithfulness, because of her children.

She, however, appealed to the board of education. She preferred charges against her sister before the board in the winter of 1890. The board considered the charges for a long time with owl-like solemnity. Then they hatched out the opinion that they did not have the power or authority to go into a scandal that affected the home life of a teacher, but they could discipline Miss Fisk on the charge that she had been absent without leave. She was fined for this, and that ended it, so far as the board of education was concerned. Miss Fisk is still principal of the grammar school, and is a member of Mr. Glover's household. Mrs. Glover, with her three youngest children, left her husband's house last September. At that time she sued him for non-support, and the court ordered him to pay her $60 a month. This he has never done, claiming that he did not have an income sufficient to do so.

UNCLE RELENTS AT LAST.

A Disinherited Street-Car Conductor is Willed $40,000.

Lincoln, Neb., April 18.—Joseph Brennan, a street-car conductor, received word that his uncle in Harrisburg, Pa., had bequeathed him $40,000.

Brennan was formerly the old man's favorite nephew, but he married a girl of his own choice instead of his uncle's, and they quarreled.

Brennan was greatly surprised at the bequest, as he had thought himself disinherited.

HIS REVENGE WAS SWEET

Young Wade Gets Even with Kate Reilly.

Twenty Charming Easter Gowns Attached to Pay the Wages Due Mrs. Wade.

Chicago, April 18.—Stuart Charles Wade, the young Englishman who recently horsewhipped J. A. Cummings, manager of Modiste Kate Reilly's New York establishment, took a further and dreadful revenge on the dressmaker Saturday night.

The horsewhipping was the result of the discharge of Mrs. Wade who claimed to have been enticed from London under false pretenses.

Mrs. Wade submitted a bill for $200 for services, which was entirely ignored.

Saturday was the busiest day of the year in the Reilly establishment. Toward evening a score of beautiful Easter gowns were ready for delivery. Just then a constable and Mr. Wade entered the house and attached the gowns.

Miss Oddie, the manager, first stormed and then pleaded, but Wade was relentless. She offered to settle, but he said she must settle in the court.

He wanted a patrol wagon to drive up and take the goods, and Miss Oddie went into hysterics at the proposition. Then he compromised on a cab.

The costumes seized were magnificent in design and finish, and there were 20 broken-hearted women who had no Easter gowns yesterday. An artistic tea gown for Mrs. Elliot Zborowski was among the robes seized.

NOTE.—This letter has a date.

Marion Harland endorses and uses Cleveland's Baking Powder.

February 5, 1892.

After long and careful trial of others, I prefer Cleveland's Baking Powder for several reasons. . .

Cleveland's is a pure cream of tartar and soda mixture, not containing alum or ammonia or any other substance deleterious to the human stomach.

Cakes, muffins, biscuits, &c., in which Cleveland's Baking Powder is used, keep better. . .

A like quantity of Cleveland's Baking Powder goes further and does better work than any other of which I have knowledge. It is therefore cheaper.

POMPTON, N. J. Marion Harland

Easter Monday is curiously observed in an old Kentish town bread and cheese being distributed to the poor.

The rent from twenty acres of land defrays the expense of the observance. Those twenty acres were the property of the Chulkhurst sisters, who were joined together after the fashon of the Siamese twins and who provided for this charity in their will.

Just now there seems to be little need for the higher priced Bed Room Suites and we are sorrowful; so we put on a wry face, take a dose of price medicine and

$55 buys what was $70,
$60 is written for $82.50,
$65 takes the place of $95,
$85 gets what has sold at $135.

There's enough value for the money here to bring every Bed Room Suite Buyer in town this way.

You know this store—

We don't play with prices—we do just as we say.

TIFFIN NOTES.

Work on the New Railroad—General Mention.

Tiffin, O., April 18.—(Special.)—An engineering corps in the employ of the Findaly, Fort Wayne & Western Railway Company is engaged in running proposed lines for the eastern extension of that road through this county.

Henry Einsel, who for many years has been in the milling and grain business in the village of Bloomville this county, and who has been one of its most wealthy and enterprising citizens, has made an assignment of all his personal and real property to J. K. Spitler, of the same village, for the benefit of his creditors. The assets will amount to perhaps $30,000, but the liabilities have not been ascertained.

The Tiffin turn-verein has purchased a lot on East Market street for $4,000 and will erect a building 41x180 feet in dimensions and two stories high with all modern improvements. The work will be commenced this week.

THE WAR ON DAHOMEY

Active Preparations Now Being Made.

The Native Tribes Will Turn Against King Behanzin at the First Opportunity.

Paris, April 18.—The government is making energetic preparations for the attack on Dahomey. Whether the expedition will go as far as Abomey is yet unsettled, but Whydah will be seized and held permanently by the French, thus cutting the Dahomeyans off altogether from the sea.

The payment of tribute or allowance to King Behanzin has of course been discontinued. It is believed that there will be little difficulty in reducing Whydah by means of the fleet, although landing there is difficult. The troops now in Africa and acclimated will be used for the expedition, and other troops will be sent to Senegal to replace those who are called away.

The French troops will be instructed to give quarter only if it is given by the enemy, and to exact severe retribution for outrages committed on subjects of France.

It is expected that some of the native tribes upon whom the Dahomeyans are continually making raids in order to obtain victims, will readily join in fighting their oppressors.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Methodist preachers met this afternoon at St. Paul's church, and considered memorials to the general conference, which is to meet at Omaha next month.

Grace church members are beginning to discuss the coming fair in dead earnest. It is intended to make the affair the biggest of its kind ever held in Toledo.

In common pleas court to-day A. L. Smith was appointed referee in the case of Shunk & Hillenkamp against the Toledo Sienna and Mineral Paint company et al.

An Easter song service was given at the Fifth Presbyterian church last evening. There was a large attendance and the excellent sermon and music were listened to with appreciation.

In Common Pleas court to-day John C. Darst sued Phebe C. Bachelder, William M. Bachelder et al. to recover $5,000 on a note and asks thrit a mortgage securing the same be foreclosed.

All property owned by the Catholic churches in Cleveland was transferred Saturday to Bishop Horstman, who is responsible for the same during the incumbency of the office of bishop.

Good audiences greeted the performances at Wheeler's on Saturday and Sunday nights, given under the auspices of the ex-Prisoners of War association, and a handsome sum will be netted.

A case wherein Frank Ely an employe on the steamer S. C. Hall, claimed wages due, came up before U. S. Commissioner Beckham this morning, but was settled by the captain of the Hall paying the bill.

A Toledo policeman has been guilty of running; not running away, but actually running to answer a police call. It's the first case on record, and it is feared the man will die of muscular rheumatism.—Perrysburg Journal.

A one-act comedy, entitled Mrs. "Plunkett's Quilting Party," will be presented at St. Mark's church, Collingwood avenue April 29 and 30, by the young people. The entertainment will be followed by a supper and social.

The Crawford division of the Junior Ys are to meet in Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday afternoon at 4 p. m., to discuss plans for receiving the guests and serving of refreshments at the Junior Y. M. C. A. anniversary, to be held in Association hall, Friday evening next.

A young men's gospel meeting is to be inaugurated at the Y. M. C. A. to-night. This meeting will be held in the junior rooms of the association every Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and all young men are most cordially invited to come and lend a helping hand.

Sylvester Russell, a prominent farmer living two and one-half miles west of Waterville village, died at his home on Sunday morning of pneumonia. Mr. Russell was extensively known, having moved from Sandusky county over thirty years ago. The burial will take place from the family residence on Tuesday forenoon.

At the meeting of the Stone Pavers' union A. H. Reilly, John Manon and Harry Gilroy were elected delegates to the Central Labor union. A resolution was adopted that the members should withhold their names from the compilers of the new directory, because the printing was to be done in a non-union office.

The Easter services at the Washington Street Congregational church yesterday were very appropriate and enjoyable. During the Sunday school program beautiful potted plants (200 in number) were brought to the platform and have been distributed among the sick of the parish and the Protestant hospital, to be placed in the rooms of the patients there.

Rolla Crumb, the 2-year old son of Ferwand Crumb, of White street, East Toledo, was taken seriously ill Saturday night with convulsions and died Sunday morning. The funeral occured this afternoon, the the interment taking place at Woodlawn cemetery. The family have the sympathy of a large number of friends in their bereavement.

The Relief society of Trinity will serve a supper from 6 to 8 o'clock to-morrow (Tuesday) evening. A social time is arranged for in connection. After supper is served, at 8 o'clock, the Trinity Flower Mission will present a series of tableaux in Knights of Temperance hall, in Trinity building. All are cordially invited to attend. It will be a pleasant occasion and the Flower Mission charity is well worthy support.

The trustees of the city natural gas plant raised the price of gas to 15 cents per thousand cubic feet meter measurement after May 1. The price for cooking stoves during the summer will be $1.65 per month. The present meter rate is 11 cents. The object in increasing the rate is to make the plant self-sustaining and make those who use the gas bear its cost. The object is a commendable one.—Urbana Democrat.

"Does advertising pay?" This is an oft asked question, but in the instance in question it would seem that it did. During the "Author's Carnival," at the First Presbyterian church, recently, an item crept into the columns of the Carnival News, to the effect that H. B. Sears, H. N. Adams and R. A. Brinkerhoff were anxiously studying the "anti fat" question and busily engaged in trying all the new remedies. One of the evening dailies innocently published the item since which time the three gentlemen have been overwhelmed with letters and circulars from the "anti-fat" remedy proprietors all over the country. These gentlemen think advertising pays.—Sunday Journal. The daily which published the item was the Bee, and the only paper, hence it may reasonably be taken for granted that the place to secure quick returns from advertising is to be found in the Bee's columns.

STOCK BARN BURNED.

Charlestown, Ind., April 18.—The large stock barn of Elisha Carr was struck by lightning this morning and entirely destroyed. In the barn were nine blooded horses which were burned to death. Among them was the trotter Kentucky Ruler, which was valued at $25,000. The eight others were worth about the same amount. There was no insurance.

THE COLLAPSE OF A ROTTEN TENEMENT

With crumbling foundation and shaky, bulging walls, is not more certainly to be looked for than the sudden giving way of a constitution sapped by overwork, unremitting anxiety or exposure to hardship and malign climatic influences. Against the disastrous effects of each and all of these, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an effectual safeguard. It fortifies the system against them by infusing into it fresh vigor begotten of renewed and complete digestion and assimilation of the food, and its consequent reparative action upon the exhausted tissues and impoverished circulation. No preparative for the undergoing, without injury, of an unusual amount of bodily or mental work, no means of averting malarial infection, or disorders born of bad diet and impure water equals this superlatively fine defensive invigorant. Take it for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, rheumatism, kidney trouble, la grippe.

House purchasers will be pained to learn that the diminishing supply of white oak is leading to the substitution of the cheaper red oak. Car builders report that it bends well, and is valuable for door-stiles, rails and some other parts of the interior of cars.

John and Samuel Manning, twin brothers, living on the same farm near Reserve, Ind., marrried twin sisters in 1871, both both of whom died in 1889. In 1891 the brothers became acquainted with twin sisters named Swope, and there was another double wedding.

It is interesting to note, in connection with recent experiments in high potential discharges of great frequency made by Thomson and Tesla, where the use of oil as an insulator has proved so efficient, that the employment of oil as an insulator is not patentable, and is, therefore, free to everybody.

McKinley and Bliss, William and Cornelius. It doesn't sound well, somehow. There is no swing or rhythm about it. But then it isn't our affair. We are not called on to shout for it.

Secretary Blaine has a fine saddle horse and a big dog, and exercises both along the avenues of Washington every morning. The sick man of America appears to be doing very well.

Boys' knickerbockers made for thirty-five cents a dozen pairs, is one of the findings of the congressional committee investigating the sweating system. This, of itself, is enough to condemn the system.

And now it is announced that the bacillus of measles has been discovered. Just the same the babies will go on catching the disease, and the unscientific mothers will continue to "drive it out" and cure the little ones with old-fashioned herb teas.

It is said the service of Chairman Clarkson at the head of the national republican committee will not be acceptable to President Harrison, should the nomination go to him. Clarkson is an Alger man. Secretaries Elkins and Foster are reported to favor Magee of Pittsburg for the position. They should really be allowed to decide, for they will run the campaign in the event of the president's renomination.

An exchange remarks that the race question will have almost no part in the presidential campaign, and that "the southern question" no longer concerns the color line. It may be pertinent to add that the "color-line-in-the-south" battle has for the past dozen years been a campaign issue mainly in northern states. Ohio, for instance, relies on "outrages in Mississippi" for the vote that gives the republicans of the state their majority.

The female suffrage bill has passed the lower house of the New York assembly. The World, which is bitterly opposed to the extension of the franchise to women, comforts itself with remembering that even if the bill passes the senate and receives the governor's signature it will not be a law because it conflicts with the state constitution. Had the Doty bill giving Ohio women school suffrage passed the legislature of this state, the women desiring to exercise that suffrage would have found themselves confronted with the same condition. The Bee has before pointed out that the constitution of Ohio limits the suffrage to "male" citizens. It is a pity to see earnest efforts to extend suffrage misdirected, but constitutions must remain paramount to legislatures.

The platform adopted by the Massachusetts state socialist-labor party in convention is an extremely radical one, and appears to have picked up its planks from at least three other countries. The demand for state control of railroads, telegraphs, canals, ferries, water works, gas and electric plants is the doctrine of English socialists. The demand for the abolishment of the offices of president and vice president, and of the senate of the United States, and for the substitution therefor of an executive board whose members, as well as the members of the house of representatives, shall be subject to recall on the demand of electors, is the doctrine of the red republicans of France. The demand that all proposed laws shall be submitted to the vote of the people is a call for the Swiss referendum.

The 400 of Great Britain are dismayed. A peer of the realm, Lord Stanford, married a dusky belle in South Africa, years ago. The marriage was by native rites, but was legal under what is known as the lex loci clause of the British law of domicile. Now Lord Stanford has been gathered to his fathers and his son is on his way to England to reign in his stead. Relatives will contest his heirship, but English advices are that it is a foregone conclusion this Hottentot peer must be seated in the House of Lords, and his coal-black mother, now dowager Countess of Stamford, who accompanies him, must receive, at the queen's drawing-room, the kiss upon her cheek with which the reigning sovereign greets every lady of the peerage on her first presentation. The House of Lords has long been tottering, but such a blow as this never before fell upon it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

At the Reid dinner the name of nearly every American minister to France was recalled except those of John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, the very greatest of them all.—Harrisburg Call.

Reports of democratic primary elections are extremely monotonous. No one save Mr. Cleveland has been mentioned as a possible candidate since Mr. Hill made his famous tour of the southern states.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Under all the circumstances nothing has been settled by the Rhode Island election. The fight will go on upon the issues as made, and the democrats have every reason to feel satisfied over the outlook.—New Haven Register.

An Iowa editor announces that he will devote one-tenth of his receipts to the Christian evangelizing of his county. A thing like that ought to beat the plan of giving the most popular policeman a whole week in a saloon.—Hazleton Sentinel.

The cowboy has lost his reputation as a "dead shot." During the just suppressed war in Wyoming two large parties of these wild men of the mountain and the plain fired at each other for two days with a result of only two men wounded.—Kansas City Star.

Our government has paid $25,000 to Italy as compensation for the Italian citizens lynched in New Orleans, in recognition of its moral obligation to see that foreigners are duly protected by law in its ports. This is an example for Chile to follow.—Louisville Commercial.

If Gov. Gray cannot be nominated for president the Dispatch would like to see the ticket Cleveland and Gray. It would prove a winner, for Gray would make Indiana certainly democratic and then the fight would be concentrated on New York.—Michigan City Dispatch.

Three thousand and fifty dollars was the sum bid last night for a blue and white hawthorn ginger jar of the period of Kanghe, and that by a dealer who may be supposed to have known what he was about. No more conclusive proof of the luxuriousness of the day could be required—perhaps no more eloquent measure of the distance between the poor and the rich.—N. Y. Telegram.

IN THE LOCAL POLITICAL FIELD.

The newly-elected democratic city officers will take hold on May 1.

Ernst Eversman has made an efficient fire commissioner, and is certainly entitled to a second term.

W. H. Tucker's friends are already at work to gain for him the mayoralty nomination next spring.

There is an active movement for the subordinate offices in the gift of the newly-elected city officials.

Frank Reno is credited with giving Mayor Emmick his points since the latter's break with Judge Sala.

Mayor Emmick turned down Representative Griffin in making up the work house board. A move the mayor will regret.

Republicans of Lucas caucus for delegates to the county convention next Friday evening. High old times are expected.

Councilman Neuendorf, of the First ward, will find he will have little opportunity to do any bossing this year. President Coleman will keep an eye on him.

Herman Baumbach wanted to be infirmary superintendent very badly, and got the 13 republican votes in the council, but he will have to be content with his $2.50 job as director.

It is said by the Foraker men in the city that they will not allow a Shermanite to be elected to the state convention. Of course, this will be determined at the county convention next Saturday.

It will be necessary for Mayor Emmick to do some consulting with the majority side of the council before nominations are confirmed. The democrats will not be the tools he found the republican members last year.

Said Councilman Schmuhl to a friend Saturday: "Last year everybody referred to me as old Schmuhl; since I am vice-president of the council, it is Mr. Schmuhl." Carl is right in it this year, sure.

Secretary of the Treasury Charles Foster comes all the way from Washington to assist in the reorganization of the Toledo insane asylum. And then republicans shed tears about the democracy electing a corps of city officials of their own faith.

Defeated city officials still swear the independent republican movement in the Second ward did the business for them. It may have made democratic success easier, but at no time was there any hope for the republican ticket in the Seventh ward.

If the democrats who are exerting themselves to keep a republican officer in place would display an equal amount of energy to bring about democratic success at election times, they would gain for themselves the plaudits of their party.

The democratic state committee has been called to meet in Columbus next Tuesday, April 26, to fix the time and place for holding the state convention, after which local managers will put on their hustling shoes for the places of honor.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mr. Franklin Hubbard Re-elected President.

B. H. Broer the New Treasurer—Committees Appointed for the Year—Recess Till Next Monday Night.

The board of education met in special session this morning, for the purpose of closing up the business of the old board and organizing the new.

Superintendent Compton submitted the resignation of Miss Nicholas of the Lagrange street school, which was accepted. Mr. Compton stated that he had appointed Miss Caton to supply the vacancy.

Mr. Major moved that the insurance be replaced as before with the exception of the Erie street school, amounting to $5,600. This he suggested be allowed to remain open for future consideration. The matter was referred to the new board.

The vote cast for the new members was tallied, and the new members, E. E. Scott and George Schuck, took the oath of office. Mr. Kohn was not present, but arrived later.

The board then proceeded to the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—Franklin Hubbard.
Treasurer—B. H. Broer.
Chairmen of committees—Teachers, Schlingman; text books, Eversman; buildings, Zurwas; by-laws, Trost; finance, Schuck; fuel Kohn; supplies, Broer, hygiene, Scott.

A recess of 10 minutes was taken to give the president time to make up the committees. The following names were announced:

Teachers—Schlingman, Hubbard and Eversman.
Finance—Schuck, Zirwas and Hubbard.
Text books—Eversman, Scott and Hubbard.
Buildings—Zirwas, Hubbard and Broer.
By-laws—Trost, Eversman and Kohn.
Supplies—Broer, Schlingman and Schuck.
Fuel—Kohn, Trost and Scott.
Hygiene—Scott, Zirwas and Trost.

A recess was taken until next Monday night.

BEFORE A SPECIAL MASTER

An Important Suit for $38,000 Commenced.

The Result Will be Watched with Interest by Business Men Generally—Can Monopolies Establish Prices of Commodities?

A case of considerable importance to merchants and business men generally came up for hearing before Special Master Irvin Belford in the United States court this morning, and was postponed until this afternoon.

The case is entitled The Goodyear Rubber Glove Co. v. Franklin Hubbard, and involves about $38,000, an account alleged to be due the company by Hubbard. The goods, it seems were sold Hubbard on condition that he sell at a stipulated price. Hubbard in his defense claims that the Goodyear company cut prices after he made his contract, and that in consequence he was undersold by competitors.

The case is an important one inasmuch as it will settle the disputed question of whether or not a corporation having a practical monopoly of a certain commodity can establish and enforce a specified selling price.

The Coates, and other cotton spool companies require a guarantee from buyers on a somewhat similar plan. Under the agreement entered into merchants must sell the spools at a certain price.

MAYOR EMMICK EXPLAINS

Why He Sent Mr. Batch's Name to the Council.

Wanted to "Get Rid of Reno and That Gang"—His Confirmation Not Expected.

Mayor Emmick's explanation of his appointment of Joe Batch as fire commissioner, does not explain to the satisfaction of Mr. Batch and his friends.

After the meeting Friday night he was speaking with Gus Wendt and other republicans.

"I thought you told me," said Gus, "that you were going to appoint Eversman."

"Well, so I was," replied his honor. "Don't you think I know what I am doing? Do you imagine that I would have appointed Batch if I thought there was any chance of his being confirmed? I simply named him to get rid of Reno and that gang."

The sculptor Auguste Cain has offered to the French Government the second casting in bronze of his large fountain called "Eagle and Vultures Disputing a Quarry," which was shown last year at the Old Salon. The first bronze is in private hands at Versailles.

FORGED CHECKS

Passed on Two Unsuspecting Shoe Dealers.

The police are just now on the lookout for a forger who on last Monday passed two forged checks for $14 each. One was taken by the Gilbert Shoe company and the other by Fred Kratt. The checks were on the First National bank and purported to be signed by Shaw, Kendall & Co. One was made payable to "Martin Lewis" and the other to "James Martin." As yet there is no clue to the man who pased the forged paper.

THE DOG WATCH.

Johnny Poag's Pet in Crayon—The Work of a Cincinnati Boy.

A crayon picture of John Poag's handsome dog Watch, the $5,000 St. Bernard, is on exhibition in the window of the Model Clothing house, corner Jefferson and Summit streets. It is the work of Louis C. McCracken, of Cincinnati, who is a brother of Mrs. Sam Kohn. The picture attracts much attention, and has received considerable favorable comment.

PERSONAL INJURY.

Ten Thousand Dollars Wanted from the Consolidated.

In common pleas court to-day Dorothy Elton sued the Consolidated Street Railway company to recover $10,000 damages for personal injury sustained in the wreck at Auburndale, caused by a collision between a Lake Shore locomotive and a street car on the Monroe line. She alleges in her petition that the driver failed and refused to stop the car on arriving at the crossing, though being warned of the approach of the train. Further that the conductor refused to go ahead and investigate, to ascertain whether the crossing was clear or not.

MISS NINA PRICE

Carries the Soprano in Dr. Talmage's Brooklyn Tabernacle.

The many friends in Toledo of Miss Nina Price will be delighted to hear of her great success in musical circles in New York, where she is studying. Yesterday she carried the soprano in the quartet at Talmage's great tabernacle, in Brooklyn, and scored a great success before an immense audience assembled to attend the beautiful Easter service. This part was formerly sung by Florence Rice Knox, and it is a great compliment to Miss Price, as well as Toledo, that she should be chosen to sing at such an important service. This young lady undoubtedly has a great future before her.

QUICK JUSTICE

Overtakes a Sneak Thief, Owing to Some Clever Work by Detective Carew.

A quick and successful piece of detective work was accomplished by Detective Jack Carew Saturday afternoon, and a clever sneak thief is now behind the bars as a result. On the afternoon mentioned a traveling man reported at the station that a new suit of clothes had been stolen from him on a Mich. Central train. Carew was detailed to the case, and shortly afterward landed the thief with the clothes on his back. He gave the name of John W. Moss. As the traveling man was anxious to leave the city, Judge Sala held a special session of police court and Moss was bound over on a charge of grand larceny, the whole case taking but a little over two hours.

MR. J. K. SECOR'S FUNERAL

This Afternoon—Services at the Family Residence.

The final rites over the remains of the late Joseph K. Secor were observed at the family residence on lower Summit street this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The large house was completely filled with friends of the deceased, and many were unable to gain admittance. Rev. Dr. W. W. Williams conducted the exercises in an impressive manner. The pall-bearers were intimate friends of the departed one. Messrs. S. M. Young, A. L. Backus, C. A. King and G. W. Davis were honorary pall-bearers, while Messrs. C. F. Curtis, W. S. Brainerd, John Berdan, Chas. F. Adams, T. C. Rowland, John Cummings, Robert Cummings of this city, and H. M. Hanna of Cleveland, carried the casket. The interment was private at Woodlawn. Mr. Hanna came up from Cleveland to attend the funeral. He is a member of the Cedar Point Shooting club and a personal friend of Mr. Secor.

LAID TO REST.

The Late W. H. Alexander—Tribute from the Fire Underwriters.

The funeral services of the late W. H. Alexander were held at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon, a large concourse of sorrowing friends attending. Rev. W. H. Sloan, the pastor, officiated and made a touching address. Interment was at Woodlawn.

The Toledo Fire Underwriters have adopted the following resolutions, prepared by a committee composed of Marion Lawrance, J. D. Irving and W. C. Crabbs:

Whereas, Death has suddenly removed Wm. H. Alexander from among us, therefore,

Resolved, That the Toledo Board of Underwriters has lost one of its oldest, most valued and faithful members, and that we as individuals have lost a tried and true friend, one whose dealings were always upright and courteous.

Resolved, That we most keenly sympathize with his family in this hour of their crushing sorrow.

Resolved, That this expression of our board be communicated to Mrs. Alexander and be spread upon the minutes; also go to the city papers for publication.

THE ORIGIN OF LANGUAGES.

Their Growth and Multiplication on the Earth.

One of the most interesting lectures of Prof. Wright's University Extension course thus far was given Saturday evening last. The "Babel" of tongues was studied in a most entertaining and argumentative manner. While the origin of the languages must be greatly a matter of speculation, Prof. Wright supports his theories by comparisons of distinct languages and the relation to each other of their several branches and families. His suppositious theory of the origin of language was ingeniously demonstrated by citing the adeptness of children to make for themselves methods of verbal communication. The necessity for language would result in its formation and expansion.

After the lecture hour, a geological map of Ohio was hung on the platform for the benefit of the class. "Study the geology of your own state," said the professor, "and you are then entered upon the study of the geology of the whole earth." As a preparation for the lecture which is to be given to-night, the strata of rock and earth, as indicated on the map, were pointed out. The subject this evening is the Glacial Period in America, to be illustrated by stereopticon views. Next Saturday evening is given up to the lecture by Prof. Mackinder, of Oxford, England. If change of place from the High School hall to the Memorial is determined upon, it will be so announced.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

Clarence Welch Crushed in the Pennsylvania Yards.

Clarence Welch, a switchman, was caught by the cars while coupling in the Pennsylvania yards, about 2 o'clock this morning. He was badly mangled and died almost instantly. The man was taken to his home on Ontario street, near Buckeye, in Park's ambulance. Welch was 37 years old, and leaves a family. The Switchmen's union will take charge of the funeral.

EASTER IN TOLEDO.

The Day Appropriately Observed—Floral Decorations in Profusion.

Easter Sunday was observed in Toledo with the greatest ceremony. All the churches made special preparations for the event, and the music was particularly fine. The ladies superintended the decorations, and they were, if possible, more elaborate than in former years—exquisite taste being displayed. The various pastors preached appropriate sermons on the resurrection at the morning services, and in the evening in many of the churches programs were rendered by the Sunday schools. On the whole, the day was made as gladsome as possible. Lack of space prevents the mention of all the details. Large congregations were present at all the services.

THE HOTEL INDUSTRY.

Its Doors Temporarily Closed—New Quarters Will be Sought.

The house in which the Ladies' Aid association has carried on the Hotel Industry is no longer at their service, Mr. F. B. Shoemaker, its owner, having declined to renew the lease of the building to the board of the association.

Temporarily the hotel will be broken up and on Wednesday next, beginning at 10 o'clock, the ladies of the board will have sold at public auction the furniture and household goods of the establishment. The sale will be conducted by Mr. Alexander at the hotel premises, on Superior street.

The money received from the sale will be deposited in bank until the ladies open in a new establishment, which it is understood they contemplate doing during the present season.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

A Society to Furnish Fuel to Patagonians—The Isabella Circle.

The Political Equality club met Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. G. W. Beeley, Tenth street, President C. Q. Murphy presiding. Routine business was transacted, a chapter read on Civil Government, and then the club, for purpose of drill, organized itself into "a society to furnish warm clothing and fuel to the Patagonians." The organization of this unique society was participated in by all the members of the club and their guests, and was greatly enjoyed. On Saturday afternoon, April 30, the club will meet with Mrs. E. P. Harley, 1804 Adams street, when the parliamentary drill will be upon "the previous question."

Announcements.

The Isabella Reading circle meets at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon with Mrs. Mary Bills, 1301 Erie street. Paper by Mrs. James Melvin on "Settlement of Chile and Peru, and the Voyages and Discoveries of Cortez."

The meeting of the Ramabai circle has been postponed from April 20 to April 27. The annual meeting for election of officers will then be held with Mrs. D. C. Shaw, 2038 Parkwood avenue.

The Coloquial club will this week be entertained by Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, with a paper on "Literature for Children."

Columbian club meets on Wednesday evening at Friendship hall.

GERMAN DAY.

To be Celebrated on July 4 by the Central Bund.

The German Central Bund of Toledo held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at Druid hall, with a large attendance of the members. The Bund is in a flourishing condition, having a fine surplus in its treasury. When the routine business had been disposed of, the question of the celebration of German Day was discussed. Those present expressed the opinion that as the Germans are loyal citizens of America, the Central Bund should celebrate German Day on July 4th next, with a monster parade and picnic. All the German societies of Toledo and vicinity will be invited to attend. A committee on arrangements was appointed, consisting of Frank Dimmer, Richard Kind, Henry Stock, John Henry and Peter J. Metler. It is intended to make the affair the grandest ever held in Toledo. The committee will meet at Mr. Metler's office on Wednesday evening.

CHURCH OF OUR FATHER.

Easter Day Services Largely Attended—Beautiful Decorations.

The Easter services at the Church of Our Father yesterday were of a very interesting nature, the hall as never before upon a similar occasion being profusely decorated with flowers. Easter lilies, cut flowers and potted plants completely filling the platform, the work of the flower committee connected with the church. Mrs. Dr. Edward Melchers likewise contributed some beautiful palms. The music was by a quartet composed of Miss Gertrude Smith, soprano; Mrs. Geo. P. Sanborn, contralto; Mr. Percy H. Howe, tenor, and Mr. Perry, basso; Mrs. Wm. Wheeler, organist. The subject of Mr. Jennings' sermon was Spiritualism—one Spiritualism of the Bible Spiritualism in the Church, and Modern Spiritualism. The revival of spiritualism 50 years ago, Mr. Jennings thought was a revolt against Calvinism, and so popular was this idea at first that had spiritualism been organized and had a leader, it would have become the religion of the world. Mr. Jennings accepted the philosophy of spiritualism, but said he did not see his way clear to accept its manifestations.

A large audience greeted the speaker. A trustees' meeting was held at the home of Mr. Rakestraw in the evening. The annual meeting of this society will occur May 1.

UNION MEN CONFIDENT.

A Soliciting Committee Appointed—The Arbitration Overtures.

At the headquarters of the Painters' union this morning a Bee was shown the printed list of 31 employers who have signed the new scale, and will pay a minimum wage of $2.50 for the nine-hour day. New tactics have been adopted by the union. A soliciting committee has been appointed, and its duties are to solicit work for these employers with whom the trouble has been settled, and the union furnishes the men to do the work. The strikers are greatly encouraged over the success the committee is meeting with. One man has promised to put the painting of 18 houses in the hands of the union.

As noted in Saturday's Bee, the union sent a letter to the Master Painters' association asking them to arbitrate the difficulty. The communication was considered at a meeting of the association on Saturday evening, but the request was not favorably received. In its wording the strikers' committee demanded an answer "before 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon." The master painters, who do not work their men on Sunday, saw no reason why they should arbitrate on Sunday, and on Easter Sunday at that.

The association's reply was not received by the union until this morning, and the union has answered by another letter, again asking arbitration. It is understood the last letter is not so dictatorial in terms, and that the association will again be called together to consider it.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS

At St. John's Church on Magnolia Street—Brief Description.

A large congregation assembled at St. John's M. E. church, Magnolia street, yesterday morning, to take part in the Easter services, the program of which was published in the Bee Saturday evening. The decorations were profuse and very fine. In the center of the pulpit was a beautiful St. Andrew's cross, fairly surrounded by lilies, while at each end of the platform stood in sweet relief large bushes of blooming marguerites. On the railing in front of the choir was a large white cross trimmed in smilax and planted on a bill of mosses and geraniums having upon it the motto, "Xti Nisi Cruce." Just below it was a table literally covered with plants and flowers of every description. On the piano, lovely with fragrance which vied with the sweet myrrh of the lilies, stood a charming hyacinth, touched by a rich begonia, and smiled upon by a stately palm, until as we looked at them by the light that streamed through the landscape background of azaleas, chrysanthemums and fuchsias, they seemed like a pair of boy lovers wooing Goldsmith's "coy maid, half willing to be pressed." Not the least significant part of the whole design was the Wondering Jew, or Zebrina pendula, independent and alone at some distance from the cross, as if refusing to be made a part of the sweet harmony of the flowers at Easter-tide.

Rev. Dr. Fish preached an appropriate sermon in the morning, and the choir rendered several excellent anthems. In the evening the senior members of the Sunday school had charge of the exercises.

TRINITY OFFICIALS.

Elected by the Membership—But Few if Any Changes.

The election of the vestrymen for Trinity church took place this morning and resulted as follows:

Senior Warden—F. B. Swayne.
Junir Warden—H. S. Walbridge.
Vestrymen—R. F. Russell, C. F. Curtis, S. C. Reynolds, G. W. Davis, W. H. Simmons, W. S. Brainard, S. H. Waring, W. A. Hodge.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING

Is What the Ladies of the Catholic Club Are Preparing for Members.

The members of the Catholic club are looking forward to Thursday night with anticipations of a pleasant evening. It is to be of an entirely musical and social character. The ladies having the arrangements in charge will spare no labor to make it a delightful event. Those desiring information about the refreshments can consult Mesdames Cooney, O'Brien, Gash, Monroe, McDonnell or Miss Donovan, who have kindly consented to attend to this feature.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

To Consider Several Matters at the Boody House To-night.

Arrangements have been completed for the meeting of Sunday school superintendents and assistant superintendents at the Boody house this evening. At 6:30 o'clock supper will be served, after which the following matters will be presented for consideration: First, "Shall we organize a superintendents' union?" second, "Shall the Sunday schools of Toledo try to have a general parade and field day this summer?"

AT THE ASYLUM.

A Reorganization Said to be on the Tapis To-Morrow.

The asylum board will hold its monthly meeting to-morrow. The new board stands as follows: Republicans—Charles Foster, Parks Foster, William Geyser; democrats—Dr. S. A. Baxter, Dr. G. P. Campbell. Governor Foster is at his home in Fostoria and will be over in the morning, and the other members are also expected to be on hand.

It is said the deal embraces the election of Dr. E. H. Rorick, of Fulton county, as superintendent, to succeed Dr. Tupper, and ex-Steward Kerans anticipates that he will be reinstated. Of course this slate may not go, but there appears to be no doubt that new officials will be chosen.

THE CASE IS SETTLED

And the Osthaus Painting Goes to Detroit.

Art Dealers Go to Law Over a Toledo Artist's Work—A Compliment to Mr. Osthaus.

The case in justice court of Hannah & Noy, art dealers of Detroit, against Edmund H. Osthaus, Toledo's famous animal painter, has been settled.

The case involved the right to the purchase of one of Osthaus' paintings of rare value. The artist contracted with an eastern firm for the whole and exclusive production from his easel. Prior to this, however, the painting in question had been sold to the Detroit firm.

The eastern firm wanted this painting, and the Detroit dealers wanted it. Osthaus had it in his possession, and the Detroit house, through W. H. A. Read, replevined it. Osthaus this morning gave up the painting, and it was shipped to the Detroit firm.

PITTSBURG'S POISON MYSTERY.

All of the Jewelry of the Late Police Superintendent is Missing.

Pittsburg, April 18.—One of the mysteries connected with Superintendent Weir's death is the disappearance of his jewelry, of which he had considerable. It was thought that this was buried with the body, but when the coffin was disinterred it could not be found, though a thorough search was made for it.

Barton Turner, a man found in Peekskill by the New York census takers, gave the names of seven wives whom he had married in his time. They had survived marriage with him periods ranging from two weeks to 29 years. He is now 81 years old.

A transfer of real estate of no small proportion was closed this morning and papers passed.

The sale involves 366 feet on Putnam street between Winthrop and Batavia streets, of the Columbia Heights addition.

The property was purchased of Baker & Smith by a syndicate consisting of John S. Kountz, John P. Bronson, Charles Jones, A. Rensch and A. Telple, and the price paid was $35 a foot, amounting to $12,810.

WITH NON-UNION MEN

The Durham Mines Again Being Worked.

Ten Thousand Hungry Miners Take Up Their Picks in England.

London, April 18.—Considerable surprise has been caused by the resolution of the non-union miners of Durham, about 10,000 in number, to resume work on Tuesday.

Those men had nothing to do with the strike. Owing to the stoppage of furnaces and other works through the coal strike, between 18,000 and 20,000 men, women and children, who are not parties to the dispute, were deprived of the means of earning their living. Therefore there is deep and widespread distress at Darlington, Stockton, Middlesborough, the Hartlepools and the surrounding districts.

An appeal was made to the non-union miners by the coal owners, to come to work and earn bread for themselves and families, as well as to relieve the thousands of other woking people deprived of support by the strike. For some time the non-union miners were afraid to accept the offer, for fear of violence at present and persecution in the future.

But they have at last consented, having been promised full protection, to the extent, if necessary, of calling upon the military. With this understanding the non-unionists decided to go to work. A number of them have already worked three shifts in safety, and unless they break their word 10,000 of them will be in the mines to-morrow. This will relieve the situation to a great extent, and may induce the union miners to come to terms.

LIFE INSURANCE SOLIDITY.

The Few Failures in the Remote Past Among Standard Companies Have Only Served to Prove the Excellence of the System.

An occasional chirp is still heard from some new exponent of assessment life insurance concerning what he is pleased to refer to as "the failure of old-line companies." It is only the fresh adventurer in the co-operative field who thus rashly opens up a subject which his older brethren in the management of assessment associations would have warned him to let alone.

The comparatively few cases in which standard companies have been forced to the wall have done more good than harm in strengthening public knowledge in the perfection of the regular system. As has often been shown before, all of the real companies, with one or two exceptions, that have gone out of business, were those organized during the war, or the high-pressure times immediately following, and the rigor of state laws and control was the main cause of their suspension. No fault is to be found with these laws, or their severe enforcement. Life insurance is too grand an essential not to call for the most searching scrutiny and inflexible legal control. Only it is well to remember that in the now dim past, when a company organized on regular principles "failed," it often had assets enough on hand to have been considered a very safe basis in almost any other line of business, and this money, less the receivers' and other costs, the policy holders got back again. In all cases something was repaid them; in many instances more than 50 per cent. of what they had paid in was obtained, and in one case over 80 per cent. was returned. Assets are comfortable things to have around, even in case of "failure." By-the-way, did anybody ever hear of a cent being returned to the certificate-holders in a single instance out of the twelve hundred assessment and "endowment" orders that have passed into oblivion? A standard company with an impaired surplus and in a receiver's hands was better than any assessment concern, because its policy-holders had sound insurance from the outset and got something substantial from the assets besides.

The regular American companies of today are the staunchest financial institutions in existence. If you don't believe it, ask any high-class banker, business or professional man; or, better still, get their sworn statements, verified by the state officials and study out the truth in question for yourself.

THE KING'S PICTURE.

The king from his council chamber
Came weary and sore of heart;
He called for Iliff, the painter,
And spake to him thus apart:
"I am sickened of faces ignoble,
Hypocrites, cowards, and slaves!
I shall shrink to their shrunken measure,
Chief slave of a race of slaves.

"Paint me a true man's picture,
Gracious, and wise, and good,
Endowed with the strength of heroes
And the beauty of womanhood.
It shall hang in my inmost chamber,
That thither when I retire
It may fill my soul with grandeur
And warm it with sacred fire."

So the artist painted the picture,
It hung in the palace hall;
Never a thing so goodly
Had garnished the stately wall.
The king, with head uncovered,
Gazed on it with rapt delight,
Till it suddenly bore strange meaning
And baffled his questioning sight.

For the form was his supplest courtier's,
Perfect in every limb,
But the bearing was that of the henchman
Who filled the flagons for him;
The brow was a priest's who pondered
His parchments early and late;
The eye was a wandering minstrel's
Who sang at the palace gate.

The lips, half sad and half mirthful,
With a flitting, tremulous grace,
Were the very lips of a woman
He had kissed in the market place;
But the smiles which her curves transfigured,
As a rose with its shimmer of dew,
Was the smile of the wife who loved him,
Queen Ethelyn, good and true.

"Then learn, O king," said the artist,
"This truth that the picture tells—
How that in every form of the human
Some hint of the highest dwells;
How, scanning the living temple
For the place where the veil is thin,
We may gather by beautiful glimpse
The form of the god within."
—Helen B. Bostwick.

Several species of wild clover are eaten by the Indians of North America generally. When the blossoms appear the inhabitants of whole villages may be seen squatted in the clover meadows plucking and eating the flowers to satiety. The latter are used for cooking also.

Some doctors say that flowing beards, in addition to tempting tornadoes to blow through them, undoubtedly attract and retain the grip microbes. From inquiries it seems that bewhiskered gentlemen have suffered more from the disease than those who walk about with clean-shaven faces.

Thousands of books in the Magyar and Slavish tongues are sold in New York. The books extend over the whole range of literature, from the simplest fairy tales to the classics. Prayer-books, hymn-books and Bibles in the various languages spoken in Hungary have a large sale.

The yearly fair in the Carpathians is still vigorous, and on the feast day all the marriageable maidens of the region round about assemble on the summit of the Gaina, 6,000 feet above the level of the sea, in order that they may be wood and won by bachelors who can afford to keep a wife.

In London a lady ordered from a stationer a number of invitation cards, which she proposed to issue to an evening party. She particularly instructed the stationer to print "'igh tea" in the left-hand corner of each. When at length the cards came home they bore the letters "I. T." in the corner specified.

Lewiston, Me., has 28 physicians and 31 drug stores, while Bangor, with about the same population, has 14 drug stores and 34 physicians. A few of the Bangor drug stores do as much, or more, business in liquors as in medicines, but nearly all of Lewiston's establishments are poorly disguised barrooms.

The bicycle has been introduced into Central Africa. Two Englishmen arrived at Tabora a few weeks ago with two of the latest improved bicycles. They had traveled a large part of the way from the coast, more than 300 miles, on the machines, and they say they worked finely along the well-trodden native paths.

It is a curious fact and one scarcely known outside of Russia (and there hardly ever mentioned), that the famous Orloff diamond was once the right eye of the great idol Serringham in the temple of Brahma. This precious gem was stolen somewhere about the beginning of the eighteenth century by a French soldier.

The Rev. Dr. Parr, when perpetual curate of Hatton, Warwickshire, which living he held from 1783 to 1790, regularly smoked in the vestry while the congregation were singing long hymns, chosen for the purpose, immediately before the sermon. The doctor was wont to exclaim: "My people like long hymns, but I prefer a long pipe."

A remarkable diamond has been recently found on the Koffeyfontein Diamond Mining company's ground in Australia, which appears to be of such value that even competent judges hesitate to name a price commensurate with its worth. It is said to be of a beautiful shade of pink, entirely devoid of spot or blemish, and to weigh 13 1-2 karats.

There is but one pauper in the town of Whitneyville, Me., and that one is a festive widow who looks out for herself 10 months in the year. It is evident that she will soon be entirely independent, for her last request of the overseers read as follows: "Please send me 10 yards of red ribbon and a new dress, and let the dress be good enough to wear as principal at a wedding."

Ernest Frevert, 9 years old, an inmate of the orphans' home at Carson, Nev., became stone blind about the middle of last week. The following day he became deaf and dumb, and the third day he went insane. Sunday a rapid change took place, and the boy now shows every sign of recovery of his lost senses. The case has baffled the doctors, and has no known parallel.

The longest cataleptic sleep known to medical science has been attracting attention in Germany. The latest report states that the man—a miner of Silesia—had been unconscious four and a half months, with no unnatural appearance except absolute rigidity of the limbs. During this time the patient's hair has grown, but his beard has remained stationary. Food is given by tube.

"What kind of a man is he—good, bad, or indifferent?" "Well, that depends a good deal who teters on the other end of the plank with him." "How so, sir?" "Well, if you size him up alongside of Judas Iscariot, he looms up middling fair; but when you sit him down between such fellows as you an' me, judge, he does dwindle surprisin'—he does, for a fact."—Texas Siftings.

It is well known that horses can hear deep sounds which men cannot. For days previous to the earthquake in the Riveria the horses there showed every symptom of abject fear, which continued without any change of character till the fury of the convulsion broke forth. But not till a few seconds before the earth began to quake did human beings hear any sounds.

The buffalo bug is best known as a hard-shelled, dark-brown thing, not unlike the lady bug in shape. The bug will eat any fabric, woolen or hempen, and what he does not eat he destroys. Sometimes he starts on the edge of a carpet or rug and eats his way around a room. Only poison can stay his course. Sometimes he gets into the crack of a floor and eats the carpet in a straight line from end to end.

Many tribes of Indians, even at the present day, bury their dead in hollow logs, which are made to serve as coffins, instead of putting them underground. Sometimes trees are split for this purpose and the two halves are hollowed out to receive the body. It is known that the ancient people of Denmark were accustomed to employ hollow logs in like manner for mortuary purposes.

To-day in England, at Harrow, the boys are doctored en masse. Each one is served with two grains of quinine at morning and night, as a safeguard against the influenza. The drug is administered after prayers and the ceremony has thus a double solemnity. As the boys go out in single file they are met by the matron, who gives each one his choice of powder or pill. The choice is made, the drug is swallowed and so the line is gradually shortened.

"OLD PLUG HAT."

At one of the social meetings held at a clergyman's house recently an old Texan was a guest. Although advanced in years, his figure was tall, straight and athletic, and evidently he had been a man of action adventure. His hearty, natural manner and ready conversation soon made him a favorite with all present. Someone in the company suggested that he might describe or tell a story of frontier life. At the request his black eyes sparkled, and with a broad smile, which deepened a scar in one of his bronzed cheeks, he at once showed his readiness to comply.

Said he: "There are a good many stories to tell about that kind of life, and I hardly know what to pick out suitable for church folks, but perhaps you might like to hear about 'Old Plug Hat' a young Methodist minister who came out our way nigh on to thirty-five years ago?

"Well, about that time a young, slender chap came to our cattle ranch, which was something like forty miles west of San Antonio. He said he had studied for the ministry in some Connecticut college, I forget which, had broken his health, wanted to rough it with us to see if he could get strong again; was willing to do anything for his keep, or would pay his way. His pleasant, frank way won the boys at once, besides, he was a novelty for us; we'd never seen much of full-grown parsons; so we made the yerlin' welcome, gave him quarters and let him ran himself pretty much as he liked.

He stayed with us over a year and soon got some color in his cheeks and a straighter backbone and heavier shoulders than he had when he came. All of the boys liked him on account of his plucky way. He and I became close friends. We taught him to ride fearlessly, manage a lariat, and by his own practice he could handle a revolver surprisingly well, particularly a small, fancy one he owned. One of his peculiarities, which I suppose came from his prim Yankee training, used to amuse us. Every Sunday he'd carefully fix himself up in city fashion, and his shiny silk hat appeared odd among a score and more sombreros. Someone playfully nicknamed him 'Old Plug,' and he was oftener called that that anything else. He never bored us with church things. I've known him to pay his share for whisky and tobacco promptly, though he could not be induced to use any. If any of us were sick or hurt he was the kindest nurse you ever saw—some of the gang said it paid to be laid up a week or so so as to listen to the interesting things he'd tell 'em.

"About two months before he left for his home, two noted desperadoes, part Mexican, part Indian, but really more devil, made their appearance in our region. They were known as 'Black Mex' and 'Big Cactus'; they had been long feared and hated border terrors on account of their cruel, cunning, bloodthirsty character. They knew every road, pass and secret hiding place in that part of Texas, and had robbed and murdered, unscathed—seemed to possess charmed lives.

"We and the ranchmen near us felt rather gloomy when we found out the wretches had appeared in our neighborhood, for we realized that sooner or later some of our bands would muster a man, more or less. You see, these weren't railroad days down there as now; and there were times when one or two of us had to ride on errands to town. Some of the boys would perhaps want to take or send their money in for safe keeping or have it mailed or expressed to their relatives; besides, medicines and other special supplies had to be ordered or obtained. Several good fellows were robbed and killed in the first six weeks after they began their prowl; one was from our camp.

"How could we be sure he was killed? Well, when his horse escaped and found his way back to us, blood-spattered and riderless, it was a pretty strong sort of a telegram. Another one of our men had his horse and pouch stolen, and was left bound fast to a tree on a dismal part of the trail. He would have died there or made a supper for wild beasts if an army mail carrier had not accidentally seen him. It got so serious that we called a crowd together and held a sort of a council of war. Mind you, there were plenty there who would have openly faced one or both of the rascals, but nobody wanted to run recklessly into an ambush. Lots of plans were suggested as to how we might squelch or capture the miscreants, but nothing seemed to fit the case without foolish risks.

"'Old Plug Hat,' how would you like to tackle 'em?" half playfully asked one of the company of the young parson, who modestly sat in the meeting.

To the surprise of the boys the youngster eagerly rose and said:

"I'll willingly take the chances, and was only waiting to ask the privilege. I'll make the next trip to town alone, and if I meet with the scoundrels and they don't get the pull on me, I'll guarantee to wipe them out; so please make a motion that I'm to go.'

"Somebody, who didn't want to see the young feller's feelings hurt by leaving him out of the talk, made the motion. I at once seconded it and urged that the boy be allowed to try himself as a scout. I'll tell you as I told them, I don't believe in spirit manifestations and inspirations and stuff of that sort, but I've great faith in practical things that I've had to learn by hard knocks. I had seen plenty of tough Indian fighting and border war before I became a ranchero, and I knew how to size up a good scout or safe officer. While the youngster was making his offer it was plain to me that he had hit upon some ingenious scheme that only needed good luck and courage for a trial. my war record, such as it was, gave me a good deal of influence with the boys, and as I seemed satisfied to risk my chum, it was finally agreed that Plug Hat should go. When the meeting broke up I asked him what his plan was, but he only laughed and said: 'If I come back you'll find out.'

The second morning afterwards he started. He picked out a good horse, put on his Sunday clothes, silk hat included, filled his belt with revolvers, fastened his saddle-pouch and bade us good-by, making most of us feel pretty glum. Well, to shorten the story, that night, while we were at supper into camp rode Plug Hat. He dismounted coolly, sat down among us and began to eat. He couldn't answer the thick volley of questions given him, but after supper, in a quiet, commonplace way, he told us about his adventure.

"He had ridden about 20 miles from camp, and had turned out of Red Stone Pass to cross a quarter-mile lonely spot that led to an easy-riding road. He was half way across when from behind the rocks or foothills out sprang Black Mex from one side and Big Cactus from the other. Of course they 'held him up,' as it's now termed. Cactus seized his bridle and covered him with a revolver. Mex held another at his ear and made him dismount. He then took all of the revolvers from his prisoner's belt and sounded his bosom and pockets for any that might be hidden. Then he made him sit down a few feet away and proceeded to rifle the pouch. Cactus kept the boy covered, but as the latter was deprived of his beltweapons and would not be likely to attempt a knife attack upon his brawny captors, even if he had a bowie, vigilance relaxed. In one of those unguarded seconds, off came the plug hat, out of it flashed the famous short-barrel, and two of the worst fiends that ever pestered the southwest were out of existence.

"Well, we and the boys, far and near, were mighty proud of Plug Hat, and some of the ranch owners offered to stake him high or take him in pards. He wouldn't stay, and he soon started north to preach.

"Did I ever see him again? What was his real name? Yes, I've seen him nearly every New Year's since I've settled north; as for his real name, if he'll quit scowling like a hungry Comanche and stop shaking his head like a balky mustang, I'll introduce you to him right now!"—New York Tribune.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, declines to go to the Chicago convention either as delegate or guest.

Fred Somers, editor of Current Literature, is a man about 45, with very dark hair, black eyes and a fierce mustache.

Mrs. Vest, wife of the Missouri Senator, is a very quiet, retiring little woman of domestic tastes. She is slight and graceful, and has fine dark brown eyes.

Mrs. Hattie Day, of East Buckspport, Me., has sold $30 worth of braids made from her own hair, and yet she has abundant black tresses, three feet in length.

Justice Lamar's bad health is attributed to his poring too much over his books. His doctor would do him the best service if he would lock up his library and lose the key.

The Duchess of Sparta, daughter-in-law of the king of Greece, and sister to the Emperor of Germany, is said to be more like Queen Victoria than any other of her majesty's granddaughters.

Washington society is busy gossiping about the rumor that ex-State Senator Lispenard Stewart, of New York, and Miss Leiter, of Washington and Chicago, are engaged to be married.

Francis Wilson thinks of going to Japan for his summer vacation. If he carries out this idea and tries to palm off upon the gentle Japs any of his "Mikado" business, they'll turn the "Lord High Executioner" loose upon him and send him home C. O. D. in a bamboo basket.

THOSE AWFUL MEN.

"Why, Edwin," exclaimed the tearful bride, "you certainly told me before we were married that you would gladly give me all the pin money I wanted!" "Yes," said Edwin gloomily, "I know I did; but I didn't suppose you meant dia mond pins."—Somerville Journal.

"Where are you going?" said Mrs. Murray Hill, as her husband started to go out at the end of the first act. "Oh, no place much," he replied; "I notice that the curtain has taken a drop, and I thought of doing the same thing myself."—Texas Siftings.

His wife's mother (in terrible flutter)—"Oh, dear! Oh, my! That heavy Louis XIV. clock upstairs just fell off the wall with a terrible crash on the very spot I stood on but a moment before." Her daughter's husband (absent mindedly)—"I always said that clock was slow."—Brooklyn Life.

Jagson says he used to think women were easily moved before he had talked much with draymen.—Elmira Gazette.

'Brother Cotrox,' said Rev. Mr. Wilgus, "did you ever reflect that your wealth is not really your own—that it is but committed to your hands as a trust to be accounted for?" "That is the way I got hold of most of it," answered the great man, surprised into sudden candor, "but I don't see how you discovered it."—Detroit Free Press.

OUR NEIGHBOR ON THE SOUTH

Old Mexico's Contribution to the World's Fair.

An Interesting Chat with Mr. Hadley, Jr., as to His Observations on His Late Visit to the Land of the Greasers.

G. G. Hadley, jr., is home from the south, having spent the past few months in Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Mexico and the Hot Springs. While in Mexico he was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Chapin, who are still continuing their travels in the south and west, being greatly benefited thereby.

In conversing with a Bee, Mr. Hadley gave the following very interesting information about his trip to Mexico:

"Mexico is just like dropping down into another world, though it resembles in many ways, Havana, Cuba, where I spent a part of last winter. Such a country and such people, such sights and conditions, one can hardly believe exists until they make the trip and see for themselves. While at Monterey, Mexico, our party stopped at the Hotel De La Plaza, kept by Mrs. E. R. Glass, an accomplished lady, who spoke fluently both the Mexican and English tongue, and did much to make our stay at Monterey both pleasant and interesting. The weather while there, was quite chilly, just enough to make a fire feel inviting. The only stove the hotel possessed was a small one in the parlor, about two feet long, and which owing to our tariff laws cost in Mexico $40, the Mexican government charging a high tariff on everything from the United States by way of retaliation. The pipe for the stove went out of one of the windows, which is the custom wherever a stove is used in Mexico, there being no chimneys, and this window was made of wire, the same as nearly all large ones are, glass being so very expensive, an ordinary window glass 12x14 inches costing $1.75.

"There was not a single room in the hotel where a fire could be made, except as above, and the office was heated by a pan of live coals, whenever occasion required. The Mexicans seem to be afraid of fire, and will not allow any opportunity for it to be put in their buildings. Mrs. Glass was having an addition built to the hotel, and offered the owner anything in reason if he would provide a few rooms with chimneys, so that she could have either a grate or stove fire when wanting, but to this he would not consent, and no amount of coaxing, or offers of bonus, would induce him, as he said he would not have his property jeopardized in that way. My room at the hotel was on the second floor, and the floor was of cement, same as was the dining room, and all others, parlor included, while the handle to the door was only a foot from the bottom, causing one to stoop way down to open it.

"These are only a few of the things that confront you, and the whole city is made up of just such conditions. Monterey being quite a large city, having from 40,000 to 50,000 population. The famous Chico Hot Springs are located here, where magnificent baths are provided, the water having a temperature of 106 degrees.

"The sidewalks are only two or three feet wide, and the principal streets are very poorly paved with rough cobblestone. Street cars with mule power afford very slow travel, and the driver stops the car to collect your fare, which is six cents, Mexican money. A traveler going to Mexico must have his baggage examined when crossing the border, but the examination, going or coming, is merely formal, as very little attention or examination is given. Here, too, you can get your money changed, and for $100 American money, they will give you $139 of Mexican.

"The Mexican National railroad runs Pullman palace cars over its entire line, and passes through some of the finest scenery to be found, said to be equal to that of Switzerland. The Mexican National is a narrow gauge, though well ballasted and in fine condition. It was built by New York, Denver and English capital, costing $50,000,000 to construct and equip, and has a mileage of 1,219 miles.

"The inhabitants of Monterey are nearly all Mexicans, though it is claimed about one thousand Americans now reside there, many of whom are engaged in business. As a rule the Mexicans cannot speak any English, though several stores keep a clerk specially for this purpose, their figures being exactly like ours. A traveler knowing a few Mexican words can get along very nicely. The word "quantius" means how much. "mohe caro" too high, and "quantius falto" how low, and by handing them a pencil and paper they will make the figures for you, provided they have no interpreter. Mexicans as a class are like Jews on prices, and ask sometimes even double what they are willing to take. They are very courteous and polite, always saluting you, and it is claimed, with reason, too, that the educated classes of both Spaniards and Mexicans can double discount Americans on courtesy and gallantry any day. Mexican ladies, whether married or single, are seldom seen, and never on the streets except with a chaperone. Their husbands seem very jealous of them, and it is a rare occurrence for a Mexican to introduce, even a warm friend, to either his wife or daughters. The windows to every house are inclosed with an iron grating, which projects far enough from the house for them to stand in.

"Nearly all buildings are built one story, and they have a blank similarity, so that when standing immediately in front of a place you cannot tell whether it is a store, hotel, livery stable or residence, everything being built up flush to the sidewalk with no outward demonstration whatever. In the case of residences there is an open court leading from the massive door or gateway, which, when open, visitors are always welcome to enter, and here one finds, shut out from all sight of only the residents, very handsome flowers, gardens and tropical plants. An American always wants such sights where they can be observed by others, but in Mexico the reverse is true. People who have never visited Mexico naturally think they would feel danger there, but a day or two in any Mexican city will remove such needless fear, and make one feel just as safe as they would in Toledo. This same rule applies with equal force to all Texas cities, where northern people think life is rather uncertain. A person can not travel through Texas or Mexico without changing his views on such points. One trip will make a convert sure, and I was much amused in reading an editorial in one of the leading papers of Texas (which, by the way, are equal to any in Ohio) which said: 'The last lynching case was at Findlay, O. The balance between the north and south is always kept even.'

"The jewelry stores of Monterey are quite attractive and make about the best place to pick up souvenirs, their work in spoons, pins, bracelets, etc., being finished in what is called filigree work, which for beauty and delicacy are seldom if ever equaled. One of the finest jewelry stores is that of Mr. Albert M. Endweiss, where I saw nearly completed, a fac simile of the horticultural building, now being erected by the World's fair exposition at Chicago, and which will be on exhibition at that time. It is made from pure silver, is 11 feet long, 3 feet wide, 3 1-2 feet high, and will be an exact representation as regards columns, windows, cupolas, roof, cornice, etc., the plans of the original building having been furnished Mr. Endweiss, by Mr. Jenny, the architect of the World's fair. The roof, windows and cornices will be finished in Mexican filigree work, which is the finest art in silver known to the civilized world.

"This shows in a measure the interest Mexico is taking in our World's fair, and Mr. Endweiss is entitled to much credit and glory for his great undertaking, as the work will cost when complete fully $12,000 and contain from 50 to 60 pounds of pure silver. Mr. Endweiss rejoices in the fact that he is a citizen of the United States, though he has been doing business in Mexico for some three years. His work is attracting great attention, and he has a proposition from Governor General Reyes, of Novea, Lion State, to make for exhibit at the World's fair, the famous Monterey Market, an odd, ancient structure, one of the sights of this queer city, where nearly all the marketing is done. He will probably accept the offer as soon as this horticultural hall is completed, which he is doing of his own accord with no help whatever. A northern gentleman whom I met there, told me he had a bet made already of $25, that the prettiest and most tasteful displays at the World's fair would be from Mexico. He expects to win, but I hardly think he will, though their exhibitions will certainly be handsome.

"Mexican men do not wear coats, but in their place shawls, which seem to cling around them, as if under magnetic influence. It is very amusing to see them handle and don this shawl, and the little boys seem to learn the twist, as soon as they are able to walk. The laboring, or middle classes are usually barefooted, though often wearing a heavy leather under the foot, bound on with strings, crossed at the heel and between the toes, they live in huts or adobes, made of mud, with palms etc., for roof; they are usually all in one room, where they eat, sleep and exist, for living is unknown to them. They are never allowed with the better classes, and the wages they receive is very small, women working from $1.50 to $5 per month and board themselves, while the men receive from 50 to 60 cents per day.

"We visited one of the large smelting works at this point, where some 400 Mexican laborers are employed, all of whom receive 62 cents per day. This is the same smelter that was first located at Laredo, Texas, and which to please the silver kings of Colorado, the United States government forced into Mexico, by rulings that would not allow them to bring the ore from Mexico for smelting purposes. It is owned by eastern parties.

"All Mexican cities are filled with plazas, (parks) and benches for sitting are everywhere found. The residents, as a rule, are born tired, and it is told of them that they sit and walk all night to save sleeping and sleep all day to save working. They seem to live on nothing, or exist rather, and three cents worth of corn, meal, etc., is their usual purchase. Their whole pride and joy seems to center in their hats and saddles, their hats costing from $3 to $75. Twenty-five dollars is nothing for them to pay for a hat, even though they do not possess another thing on earth. They will also pay $40 to $60 for a saddle, with equal freedom, provided they have it, or can get it in any way, and as donkeys are worth only about $3 and mules and horses $10, it makes a queer sight to witness a two dollar man wearing a $25 hat, riding a $10 horse, on a $50 saddle.

"Prices as a rule are much higher in Mexico than in the United States, though a very few things can be found cheaper. Sugar (their refining) was worth 14 cents, butter 75c, coffee 35c, vinegar 50c per pint, flour 6c, salt 10c, hams 35 to 50c, cheese 40 to 50c, bacon 35 to 50c, tea $1.25 to $1.75, wood $10 to $14 per cord, stove pipe 75c per joint, lamp chimneys $1, common white wash-bowl and pitcher $5, and an ordinary medium size hanging lamp $22. A safe that costs at Canton, O., $120 costs $250 and duty to enter besides freight. At Saltillo, Mexico, wood and potatoes were both selling for 6c per pound. The most of their teaming is done with oz teams, who were poorer in flesh than anything I had ever beheld, and their yoke, a crude affair, lashed on in front of the horns, claiming they possess more power by pushing than pulling, while the chain or power for attaching to the cart is a braided hide cord of their own make. Carts, wagons, etc., are very high here, the duty being more than the value.

"Once or twice each week the military band plays in the plaza at evenings, and the crowds then seen are terrific. The walks are divided and women and men walk entirely separate from each other. Their army is largely composed of convicts from the penitentiary, and it is said that a convict is always given his choice of the prison or army. One would think the army preferable, but in this he would be mistaken, for their life in the army is claimed to be something dreadful. Officers seem to have absolute authority and shoot them down if they so desire. Their rations hardly let them exist, while one blanket is all they have to sleep on, with no tents. If one cannot march, either from fatigue or other causes, he is killed on the spot by being stabbed with a sabre, as he is a convict and cannot be left.

THE CORNER-STONE LAYING

Arranging for the Event on the First of May

At the Immaculate Conception's New Edifice—What Was Done at the Meeting Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the clergymen and councilmen of the various Catholic churches of the city, together with representatives of the different Catholic societies, met at Friendship hall for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the reception to the Rt. Rev. Bishop Horstmann on the occasion of the laying of the foundation stone of the Immaculate Conception church, May 1.

Rev Father Hannin called the meeting to order, and briefly stated its object. M. P. Murphy was elected chairman and Anthony Senn secretary.

After the roll call of delegates Rev. Father McCarthy made a statement setting forth the arrangements already made by the executive committee of his parish.

After some discussion the grand marshal appointed by the Immaculate Conception parish, J. M. Gorman, was indorsed as the grand marshal of the day.

It was decided that each parish select its own marshal, and report the same to the grand marshal.

The proposed rendezvous, corner of Michigan and Cherry streets, was also indorsed.

Father McCarthy stated it was his intention to ask each pastor to appoint three delegates to act as a committee on reception. This idea was agreed to, and the members will meet for organization at St. Mary's hall, Cherry street, 7.30 o'clock, Wednesday evening.

The matter of badges was referred to the respective parishes, though it was the sense of the meeting that each badge have on it an American flag.

Grand Marshal Gorman will announce his aids and the full program in a few days.

The demonstration on the occasion promises to be one of the largest ever seen in this city.

Baby

Your Baby: sick all last night—cross this morning; colic hurts; little hands clutch the air; the wee body twists, the tender stomach is big with flatulence.

Helpless! Hours before the doctor can come; what is to be done?

Dr. Hand has the remedy for Baby. He had it 25 years ago, but it wasn't so well known then.

It stops colic short metre, gives the little one rest—gives the family a rest.

A little Book, illustrated, full of sense and suggestion, will be sent to any one in the land FREE. It tells you how to do your part in caring for Baby. Dr. Hand's Colic Cure is 25 cents a bottle—it's worth $25 in an emergency. 25 cents in stamps gets it. If you want a trial bottle, or a free book, address

THE CRANKS ARE LOOSE

Sensational Scene at St. Patrick's Church.

Peter Hayes, a Lunatic, Created a Decided Sensation at St. Francis de Sales Saturday Afternoon.

The crank is evidently abroad in the land, and Toledo seems to have her share of him.

During services at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning a stranger in the garb of a G. A. R. veteran, and evidently a crank, created a sensation that came near resulting in a panic.

Father Hannin was in the middle of a discourse on the gospel of the day, when the man entered, and going up within a few feet of the altar called the reverend gentleman by name several times.

'Father Hannin," he shouted, "that is all —— nonsense about intemperance. You don't know what you're talking about."

Father Hannin had not said a word about intemperance, and it was evident the fellow was either drunk or carzy. Father Hannin requested him to be seated but he persisted in standing up and talking. He gesticulated wildly and the congregation was in a whirl of excitement over the singular interruption. After some parleying the man was ejected and walked quietly away.

He was understood to say that his name was Latimer, and that he hailed from Indianapolis.

Peter Hayes' Wild Freak.

Peter Hayes, a chronic lunatic, is booked for a term at the insane asylum, Saturday afternoon, while the ladies of the Altar society were busily engaged decorating St. Francis de Sales church for the Easter Sunday services, a man perfectly nude entered the church, and kneeling down in a pew commenced praying and singing in a loud voice.

The consternation of the ladies can be better imagined than described. They decamped in short order. The fellow was Peter Hayes, who has been in the insane asylum several times, and who is now evidently as crazy as a loon. He wandered aimlessly about the church, and finally went out on Cherry street, where he was captured by a policeman, who made him dress. He was then taken to the police station, and will undoubtedly go to the asylum to-day.

No Money Required of Responsible Parties to Commence Treatment
DOCTORS FRANCE AND OTTMAN,
Formerly of New York, now the Celebrated Examining Physicians of THE FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo
Dr. Ottman, Saturday, April 23.
Dr. France, Wednesday, May 11.
Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the Burnett House from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.
The doctors describe the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.
The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the State Incorporated with a Capital of $300,000.00.

DR. OTTMAN, the Celebrated Examining Surgeon

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,
38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession
CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.
IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, in short. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies now to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

DR. MINGOS!

DULL IN THE MARKETS

Storms Abroad Had a Depressing Effect.

Prices About the Same as on Saturday.

All the Trading and Quotations of a Whole World Gathered for the Readers of the Bee.

Here is a state of things in wheat values. Last Saturday our market for May closed at 91 3-8 and New York at 90 3-4. To day our market rules at 91 1-8 to 91 1-4 and New York 90 5-8 and the further anomalous condition is, that there is almost no contractment in either market as a basis for May delivery.

In the absence of reports of foreign markets wheat opened on this side about where it closed Saturday and remained quite steady for wheat, east and west, until an increase in the visible was developed, when the price weakened off a little, but cable reports of severe weather in France and England started the markets upward again, and closed higher. At home and abroad the crop promises to be late as well as deficient.

In New York May wheat closed 3-4 and July 7-8 up. May corn 1-8 and July 3-8 up. May oats 1-8 lower.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1 1-4 and July 1 1-8 up. May and July corn 1-8 up. May oats 1-8 lower.

In Toledo we have had a moderately active market for wheat futures. Prices opened about where they closed Saturday, and slowly weakened off 3-4c, but recovered part of the loss. May opened at 91 3-8, sold down to 90 5-8 and closed at 91, a loss of 3-8; July opened at 84 1-4 and closed at 84 5-8, a gain of 3-8; August opened at 83 1-8 and closed at 83 1-2, a gain of 1-4.

Cash wheat was dealt in very moderately. Car lots of No. 2 soft sold at 91 1-4 to 91 1-2 and Saturday 91 3-4. At close 91 1-4 was the market. No. 3 soft at 88 1-2. Rejected No. 1 at 83. Red and white at 88. No. 2 white at 88. Nothing doing in corn. We quote sellers of No. 2 at 41, No. 3 39 1-2, No. 3 yellow, 41.

Cloverseed—Very little business reported. Prices about steady. Prime at $7.30. No. 2 at 6.75 to $7.10.

General.

AT THE TOLEDO THEATERS

Maggie Mitchell's Last Appearance in This City.

A Temperance Town at Wheeler's This and To-morrow Evenings —The Police Patrol at the People's.

Maggie Mitchell is to retire permanently from the stage. How many people has he entertained during her remarkable career on the stage, it would be hard to tell. There is no actress before the people to-day who has acted so incessantly and to such constantly changing audiences as has the originator of the memorable "Fanchon." It will be surprising intelligence to her many admirers in this city to know that she has not always confined herself to the enactment of characters of the hoyden type. Maggie Mitchell was a phenomenal child actress, and at the age of 10 years made a sensation by appearing at a benefit performance as Richard III. To those who know anything of the text of Shakespeare's character, it will appear the more remarkable that a child at that age should be able to commit to memory the tricky lines of this tragedy. Miss Mitchell was also one of the best Mazeppas the American public ever saw. The career of Maggie Mitchell if published would successfully fill a volume. Her long absence from this city and reappearance in a new play are two reasons why it is safe to predict that she will be greeted by a large audience next Wednesday evening at Wheeler's opera house.

Hoyt's New Piece To-night.

This and to-morrow evenings Chas. H. Hoyt's new musical comedy, A Temperance Town, will be presented at Wheeler's with Eugene Canfield and other well-known comedians in the cast. The Temperance Town selected by Mr. Hoyt represents a village in a New England state, which has in force a "prohibitory law." The period selected is somewhere about Thanksgiving Day in 1882. The first act takes place in the backyard of the parsonage. "The Temperance Crowd." The second act is in Fred Oakhurst's saloon, "The Rum Crowd." Act third is in two tableaux. Tableau first, dining-room at the parsonage, "The Thanksgiving Dinner;" tableau second, outside the church, "The Thanksgiving Sermon." In act fourth, the interior of the court house is shown, "The trial of the rum-seller." New scenery has been designed and painted by Arthur Voegtlin. Mechanical effects are by Matt Lynch and the properties are by Geo. Henry of Hoyt's Madison Square theater. The stage has been directed and the business arranged by Mr. R. A. Roberts. The production will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Hoyt.

At the People's.

This evening the Police Patrol will open a week's engagement at the People's. The story of the play was taken form the facts surrounding a famous murder mystery of some five years ago in Chicago. The scenic pictures are of a most elaborte and beautiful kind, embracing reproduction of localities made famous from their association with some historical event. One act is given over to a reproduction of the interior of the West Lake street patrol barn, showing the horses quietly standing in their stalls, the wagon in place, the men lounging about amusing themselves in various light ways, and everything in readiness for the sound of the alarm. When the bell peals forth its call for the wagon of justice the horses dash from their stall under the swinging harness, are hitched and off the stage in a space of time said to be less than fiv eseconds. The succeeding act represents Hay Market square, a spot well remembered as the scene of the anarchists' uprising some six years ago. In this act the "White Patrol" is again introduced; this time answering the alarm on the street, making a wild rush around the stage to where the officer is seen struggling with the prisoner. The cast is a very capable one and announce such names as Misses Etelka Wardell, Virginia Nelson, Nellie Burton; Messrs. Chas. Chappelle, Elmer Grandon, Eddie Giguere, Scott Marble, Herbert Jones and a policemen's quarteete.

Corey Shaw is at home in Toledo again and preparing to enlarge and rebuild his mother's cottage on Jefferson street.

Mrs. M. R. Davis, of lower Superior street, went to Grand Rapids, Mich., Saturday on account of the illness of her husband.

There will be a reception at the Auburndale Y. M. C. A. hall to-morrow evening, given by the young men belonging to the association.

The Euterpe Club will give its third concert Wednesday evening, April 20, at Westminster church. This promises to be an exceedingly entertaining affair.

Mrs. Dick, wife of Professor Dick, of Allion College, Michigan, the guest of Mrs. E M Bohman for a fortnight past, has returned home.

The Mite society of the Immaculate Conception church meets with Mrs. T. O'Connor Wednesday evening at her residence, 527 Broadway.

The anniversary of the St. Andrew mission occurs Friday evening. A splendid musical and literary program has been arranged for the occasion.

Simon Lauber, of Archbold, has accepted a position with the Lion store, Toledo, and goes there this week. Simon is an efficient clerk.—Fulton County Tribune.

The programme arranged for the concert to be given at the Central Congregational church to-night is exceptionally good and the artists are so well known that the entertainment cannot help but be a success.

LAMSON BROS'.

Ten Physicians Tried.

BEST MED CAL SKILL FAILED TO RELIEVE HER.

Mrs. Bailey Was Forced to Walk the Floor all Night—Finally a Simple Method Restored Her to Health—The Case Reported—Prof. Phelps' Discovery.

No class of society and no occupation is exempt from a great increase of sickness in the spring months.

And this year, as the result of the terrible epidemic of grip, finds people specially susceptible to the changing of the seasons. The blood is impoverished and impure, the nerves are weakened and unstrung, and all the physical organs seem to be "on a strike."

Mrs. L. S. Bailey.

The general cry of the doctors in March, is "purify the blood."

A remarkable case is reported by Dr. Vandenburgh in recent issues of the medical journals, and a simple but the most effective spring medicine is recommended. This pure remedy that cures the worst form of blood diseases, is one, the physicians say, that will most quickly and effectually restore the system to health, give strength to the muscles, and create normal action in the physical organs.

Dr. Vandenburgh's report, omitting its technical medical terms, is as follows:

"Mrs. L. S. Bailey, of West Potsdam, N. Y., is a woman who for the last twenty years has been afflicted with scrofula. At first small blotches broke out on her head, and in a short time her whole body was covered. She faithfully tried the best of medical skill, consulting some ten physicians, but none of them helped her. At night her whole body itched so that she was often forced to walk the floor nearly all night.

"The various patent medicines, such as sarsaparillas, ointments, etc., that are advertised for the cure of this disease, were tested. Still further discouragement was the only result.

"Acting upon the theory that blood diseases are caused by weakness of the nervous system, I prescribed that standard nerve and brain food, Paine's celery compound. The result was almost miraculous, for the terrible disease that had so long resisted all treatment, yielded to this compound, and Mrs. Bailey is now completely cured, with the exception of one spot on her arm, and that is fast going away."

Many things have been commended to give strong muscles, pure blood, vigorous health, and firm nerves. But it required something more scientific, more advanced, than the ordinary nervines [illegible], and cheap decoctions.

A discovery was demanded. And a discovery was made by the eminent Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth. Paine's celery compound was the result, and it is to-day the best "spring medicine" in the world, ensuring health, happiness, and long life.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Monroe Street Paving.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, up to 12 o'clock at noon of Monday,

THE 9TH DAY OF MAY, 1892,

for improving Monroe street from Bancroft street to the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue, by paving the central thirty-six feet thereof, and from the westerly gutter line of Detroit avenue to westerly city line the central forty feet thereof with Trinidad asphalt laid on a foundation of hydraulic cement concrete, together with the necessary grading, curbing, drainage, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for in an assessment upon the lots and lands benefited thereby, one-half in ten days after the confirmation of the assessment and the remainder in one year thereafter, and the same manner with the Toledo Consolidated Street Ry. Co., except the part in the street intersection, which will be paid in cash by the city of Toledo, ninety days after the completion and acceptance of the work.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written out in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice, must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of four hundred dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into; otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city, and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council,

C. H. DURIAN,
City Clerk.

COSTIVENESS

If not relieved by judicious and timely treatment, is liable to result in chronic constipation. As an aperient that may be used with perfect safety and satisfaction, Ayer's Pills are unsurpassed. Unlike most cathartics, these pills, while they relax and cleanse, exert a tonic influence on the stomach, liver, and bowels, causing these organs to perform their functions with healthy regularity and comfort. Being purely vegetable and mineral, they are free from any kind, and their use is not attended with injurious effects. Good for old and young of every climate, Ayer's Pills are everywhere the favorite. G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main street, Carlisle, Pa., says: "Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and I deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. I would not willingly be without them."
